Council Votes 4-1 For Drake Widening Job

San Anselmo Acts Despite Traffic Experts' Views

After two months of debate, San Anselmo city councilmen last night denied the experts and decided to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard without changing the traffic pattern on neighboring San Anselmo Avenue.

The decision came in two votes. The first, with Duane C. Ragan dissenting, was to widen Drake between Bolinas and Tunstead avenues. The second, a unanimous one, not to change San Anselmo Avenue's traffic pattern.

Informally, they instructed City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt to tell engineer B. J. Whitlow that the only changes they want on San Anselmo Avenue are those necessary to allow traffic to move through the intersections.

LONE DISSENT

In casting his dissenting vote, Ragan said angrily: "I don't want to be a party to this city creating one of the worst traffic messes we've ever seen."

All councilmen agreed it was a hard decision. Arthur W. Smith said:

"Any decision we make, we will be criticized for it. I am firmly opposed to making San Anselmo Avenue one-way, but I think we should widen Drake. I think the problems of the intersections will work themselves out. I disagree with the experts."

EXPERTS' STAND

Whitlow and traffic engineer James Kell, hired by the city to prepare plans for the widening, both said they would stake their reputations that Drake could not be widened without accompanying changes on San Anselmo Avenue.

The plan the two favored was to make San Anselmo Avenue a one-way street, running in opposite directions from Ross Avenue. An alternate plan would have kept the avenue two-way, but taken away parking spaces to make room for stacking lanes for turns at intersections. Merchants opposed both plans.

Before last night's vote, Ragan asked that the project to widen Drake be deferred "until a more important project is completed — namely, a solution to the traffic hodge-podge at the Hub. . . ."

He added that Drake should not be widened between Tunstead and Bolinas until Ross is prepared to widen the boulevard within its town limits.

Smith pointed out that one reason for widening Drake now is the "dangerous" intersection at Tunstead and Drake, where the boulevard narrows from four lanes to two.

Red Ruse Draws Bloody Raid On Friendly Village

SAIGON—Communist guerrillas fired on a U.S. Air Force spotter plane in the Mekong Delta last night, deliberately touching off an American retaliation air raid that killed 15 civilians and wounded 182, U.S. spokesmen reported today.

A U.S. embassy spokesman said two platoons of Viet Cong were in Chau Nhiem, a hamlet 135 miles southwest of Saigon, propagandizing the villagers when the spotter plane flew over. The embassy said the guerrillas ignored frantic pleas of the terrified Vietnamese and opened fire.

The embassy spokesman said the villagers attempted to flee their homes but were prevented from doing so by the armed guerrillas. The spotter plane meanwhile marked the hamlet with smoke flares and two F-100 Supersabre jets bombed and strafed it in one of the worst such incidents of the war.

The embassy said there had been several similar incidents in recent months by Communists, hopeful of embittering the villagers against the Americans.

The account of the incident supplied by U.S. military spokesmen agreed with that of the embassy which pieced together the facts after sending in relief teams. But the military was terser, saying the planes struck exactly on a target that had been approved through all proper channels including the Vietnamese province chief.

TO HOSPITAL

Victims were taken to the U.S. AID hospital where American and Vietnamese doctors worked side by side all night to treat the wounded —including three Communist guerrilas caught up in the attack.

UPI correspondent Leon Danial reported from the front today that U.S. Marines have launched a new offensive, Operation Colorado, against Communist troops in the Chu Lai area 350 miles north of Saigon and that heavy fighting raged at nightfall. He said the Marines thus far had killed about 140 enemy and were rounding up the Communists and wiping them out.

KOREAN TROOPS

South Korean troops and U.S. tanks killed 170 North Vietnamese regulars in an operation in which the allies turned the tables on the Communists in a battle in the Central Highlands near Pleiku.

The pre-dawn triumph in jungle mountains near the Cambodian border brought to 385 the number of Communist troops killed in the 10-day-old Operation Paul Revere.

In the air war, American planes followed up Monday's record 139-mission assault on Communist North Viet Nam with

Aircraft Machinists To Ballot; Congress Still Working On Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both sides in the 34-day airline strike agreed to a congressional request today to submit the dispute to binding arbitration. But the president of the striking machinists union doubted his members would allow it.

P. L. (Roy) Siemiller, head of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM), said he would urge the 35,400 strikers on five airlines to approve the arbitration route. But he told a reporter, "I have little hope they will."

AGREE TO MOVE

It was with the stipulation that the members approve arbitration that Siemiller accepted the proposal of the House Commerce Committee. The airlines readily agreed to the move.

P. L. SIEMILLER
Expects union veto

The big catch clearly was the fact that ratification of the arbitration plan by the strikers would mean they would return to work promptly —still without knowing what the contract would contain. The arbitration board would set its own deadline for resolving the disputed issues.

Siemiller promised to tell his men that arbitration was preferable to having Congress pass pending legislation to end the strike. But the IAM members already have demonstrated their independence in rejecting a previous, tentative contract settlement worked out at the White House and recommended by Siemiller.

BLUNT STATEMENT

Siemiller's personal pessimism about chances of strikers agreeing to arbitration was backed by a blunt statement from an official of the IAM's grand lodge in New York. The spokesman, George Klieman, said "there's not a chance of a snowball in hell."

A spokesman for the big San Francisco IAM lodge said he was flabbergasted to hear of the tentative acceptance of the proposal by union leaders. But with the lodge president in Washington, he declined to predict how members would vote. "No one has considered this line of attack," Robert Volosing, Lodge 1781 Executive Board member, said.

TO SUBMIT PLAN

Siemiller said he would submit the plan to the membership "at the very first possible moment" but said it would take about three days for action.

The union chief emphasized that the strikers would "have to be sold on the idea"—that they might defeat it if it "hits them cold."

The walkout against Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United Airlines has grounded about 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic.

The dramatic break in the long stalemate came when Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., proposed the arbitration plan at the outset of the fifth day of hearings by his group on a Senate-passed bill to legislate an end to the strike.

Staggers said the committee would continue to consider the Senate legislation while arbitration arrangements are made.

SENATE LEGISLATION

Staggers said the arbitration would be carried out under present provisions of the Railway Labor Act, under which all avenues to avert the strike were exhausted earlier.

Under the procedure, Staggers said the two sides would resolve whatever issues they could, then the remaining unresolved issues would be submitted to final and binding arbitration.

The committee was told that a five-hour round of talks yesterday between the two sides produced nothing.

Koch Merges With Gulf, Western

H. Koch and Sons Co., Corte Madera has been merged with Gulf and Western Industries, Inc. of Houston, Texas, it was announced today.

M. J. Koch, plant administrator, said negotiations which have been in progress for several months were concluded Monday whereby Gulf and Western acquired control of the Corte Madera luggage and fiberglass products manufacturer. The amount of the transaction was not disclosed, but Koch said it was less than a rumored figure of $10 million.

He said the Corte Madera plant will continue operating under the same name and "with esentially the same workers," although some members of his family are planning to retire from the business. He said it is believed his father, Maurice P. Koch, president, will remain "but all of these matters have not been decided."

In recent years, Koch said, the Corte Madera plant has gone into the manufacture of aeronautical hardware, and with the help of Gulf and Western it is hoped this operation will be expanded.

The firm was founded in San Francisco in 1909 by Herman Koch who is no longer living. The business was moved to Corte Madera in 1954 and incorporated in 1958 with three sons and a daughter as directors: Maurice P. Koch, William L. Koch, Harold M. Koch and Mrs. Rebecca Koch Abel. The plant currently has a payroll of approximately 250 employees.

Gulf and Western has as its pricipal operation the manufacture of automobile parts but recently has acquired a number of subsidiary organizations. It was announced this week that Paramount Pictures Corp. of Hollywood had been merged with the company and will be operated as a subsidiary.

Philippine Pickets Greet Viet Premier

MANILA (UPI) —Placard-waving student demonstrators picketed South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today as he began a state visit in the staunchly anti-Communist Philippines.

Ky and his wife Mai landed in his lavishly-equipped, personal four-engine plane, recently purchased in the United States for an estimated $500,000. They were welcomed by Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and his wife, Ielda.

Bakeries Defend Price Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Bakers told Congress today recent bread price increases were necessary to make a profit and meet increased costs.

One of the breadmakers' witnesses, Russell J. Hug, executive vice president of Ward Foods Inc., a New York City-based chain, said the cost of everything is up —from the price of seed used by farmers to labor costs of bakeries.

He told a House subcommittee investigating the bread price rise:

"If the housewife today were to bake her own bread in the kitchen as her grandmother did in the old days, she would be faced with the same increased costs we are faced with today and her homebaked bread would cost her proportionately more."

Also defending the price increases were R.N. Laughlin, president of Continental Baking Co., and Stephen Veseckyn, a vice president of Cambell Taggart Associated Bakeries, Dallas, Tex.

Laughlin said Continental's share of profit to sales declined from 2.6 per cent in 1956 to 1.9 per cent in 1965.

Another witness, Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., charged that "price fixing, manipulation and speculation" in the commodity markets had led to higher wheat prices.

Fino said part of the blame for higher bread costs must rest with the administration for not giving the commodity exchange authority a sufficient budget to investigate the 21 commodity markets.

Barefoot Little Girl's Long Walk

Footweary and tired, little Laurie Bonnifield, 5, was returned to her home in Marin City last night after wandering barefooted from H Street in San Rafael to the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

It took Laurie two hours to stumble the three-and-one-half miles.

Her adventure began at 2 p.m. when she was playing in the rear yard of her babysitter, Mrs. Marcella H. Karp at 6 H Street.

Half an hour later, Mrs. Karp told police the girl was missing. Shortly afterward, a gas station employee reported seeing her walking east on Fourth Street. Police checked the area but found no trace.

Two hours later, maintenance men on the bridge saw Laurie, took her for a ride on a truck to the toll plaza where they handed her over to the California Highway Patrol. The little girl slept in the patrol car all the way to her home at 7 Cole Drive, Marin City.

U.S. Says France Slanting Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today charged the official French television network with presenting "slanted and often inaccurate commentaries in United States policy in Viet Nam."

A department spokesman said Ambassador to Paris Charles E. Bohlen handed a letter expressing "the concern of the United States government" over such broadcasts to French Minister of State Louis Joxe yesterday.

Press Officer Marshall Wright said this was the first time Bohlen had given the French a written complaint about allegedly slanted telecasts, but that the ambassador had made oral complants "several times before."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Winthrop Faces Segregationist

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — A segregationist named Johnson who disagrees with the policies of his namesake in the White House today emerged as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate who will oppose millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller in November.

Johnson

Jim Johnson, a former Arkansas Supreme Court justice who organized the state's first white citizens council, yesterday won the nomination in a runoff primary election against Frank Holt a racial moderate.

With 2,530 of 2,661 precincts reporting, unofficial returns gave him 198,696 votes to 180,114 for Holt.

Although he said at the start of his campaign he hoped his segregationist background would not be an issue, Johnson stumped the state repeatedly declaring he was unchanged from 1956 when he ran on one issue—segregation—against Gov. Orval Faubus.

Lost Pair Found

ALLENUSPARK, Colo. (UPI) —An Illinois man and his young daughter were found by a search party shortly after daybreak today more than 12 hours after they had become lost in the wilderness of 14,256-foot Longs Peak. Herbert Warren, of Chicago, and his daughter, Eleanor, 8, were reported in good condition.

Nun Foils Suicide

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Sister Consuelo clung to the legs of a 23-year-old patient for more than seven minutes yesterday and prevented the man from jumping to his death. The man, whose names was withheld, attempted to jump from an eighth floor of the General Hospital here.

Fifth Woman Slain

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—A 45-year-old mother of four was found beaten to death today in nearby Howell Township —the fifth woman brutally murdered along the Jersey shore in the past year. She was identified by state police as Mrs. Dorothy Louise McKenzie of Toms River.

CONCORD (AP)—Ten more demonstrators have been arrested at the gates of the Concord Naval Weapons Station for trying to stop the flow of munitions to Viet Nam. The arrests yesterday came as 29 demonstrators picked up Monday were arraigned in court.

French Drug Raid

NICE, France (AP)—Identities of more than 1,000 persons were checked last night in a sweep of Riviera night spots by antidrug police. Police officials said about 100 persons, many of them beatniks, were detained temporarily when they could produce no valid papers.

Priest Will Fight

SANTA MONICA (AP) — The Rev. William H. Dubay, a militant Roman Catholic clergyman suspended from his duties, says he will continue his fight for reinstatement. James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Los Angeles archbishop, suspended Father DuBay last February, criticizing the priest for his outspoken views on racial matters.

Four Bloody Deaths Blamed On Robberies

KING CITY (AP)—Bodies of four brutally slain farm workers, one with 72 stab wounds and a crushed skull, now have been found near King City.

Five young field hands have been arrested.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Edward K. Barnes says robbery was the apparent motive in all four deaths.

NO COMMENTS

Law officers have made no other comments on the killings.

The coroner's office said yesterday the latest discovery was the body of Jose Aguirre, 35, of San Lucas. Missing since last Friday night, Lucas had been shot in the head, stabbed 55 times and his skull was crushed.

The other body identified yesterday was that of Eduardo Domingos, 33, who had been missing since July 29.

Both had been robbed.

IN DITCHES

Both bodies were found in drainage ditches near King City in the fertile San Joaquin Valley, the same general area where two other agricultural workers were killed Sunday.

The five persons arrested have been charged with the Sunday slayings. Steve Sanchez 30, was stabbed 72 times and his skull was crushed. Manuel Guerrero, 26, was run over repeatedly with a car.

The five held on murder charges are Juan Garcia, 20; Frank Gonzales, 19; Luis Pacheco, 19; Jose L. Galvan, 18, and Jose Valasquez, 24.

THE RACIAL SCENE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial violence erupted in Detroit and Grenada, Miss., last night only a short time after the House passed a civil rights bill giving new legal weapons to Negroes wanting better housing opportunities.

A white man was hospitalized in Detroit after he was beaten by a group of Negroes, who attacked him when he attempted to retrieve a hub cap knocked off his car by a rock-throwing mob.

A force of 150 police, including 17 cars with riot-trained officers, quickly moved into the integrated East Side Detroit neighborhood and brought the violence under control in 90 minutes. Three Negroes who were involved in a brawl with police, setting off the trouble, were charged with inciting to riot, said Police Commissioner Ray Girardin.

In Grenada, several Negroes were injured, none seriously, when a crowd of whites threw rocks, bottles and firecrackers into a group of Negroes staging a civil rights demonstration in the town square.

Police kept the two groups apart, standing with rifles at the ready to block the whites from the street where the Negroes were gathered. But the presence of the officers did not stop the barrage of missiles or shouts of "White power!"

The battle over civil rights for Negroes, including the right to live in any neighborhood, moves to the Senate today. A last-ditch effort by Republican leaders to strike the controversial housing proposal failed and the 1966 civil rights bill was passed by the House last night 259 to 157.

The bill, expected to face rough going in the Senate, would put the government into new areas of the civil rights struggle. It makes the use of force or threats against civil rights workers a federal crime, provides for a uniform juror selection system for federal courts and authorizes the government to begin court action to eliminate racial discrimination in state court juries.

Other proposals to correct conditions which President Johnson blames for racial rioting are getting sliced deeply in Congress. These include proposals for rent supplements, Teacher Corps and demonstration cities — where slum areas would be cleared.

In Chicago, a leader in the drive started by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for open housing announced today postponement of a planned march into an all-white Southwest Side area. The spokesman, Al Raby, said a demonstration would be held in some other section and that the marchers might return to the Bogan area "Friday, over the weekend or a month from now."

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, meanwhile, said, "There must be some way of resolving this question of integrated housing without the marches."

And in Cleveland, a Cuyahoga County grand jury said racial violence in Negro slums in the city's Hough area last month was 'organized, precipitated and exploited by a relatively small group of trained and disciplined professionals at this business."

The report said black nationalists and Communist party youth leaders worked together to incite the rioting.

Testimony from 40 witnesses over seven days showed, the grand jury report said, that "leaders of the W.E.B. DuBois Club and the Communist Youth Party, with interchangeable officers and virtually identical concepts, arrived in Cleveland only a few days before the Hough area disorders."

Ring Stolen In Home Burglary

Theft of an $850 diamond ring, a camera, and four bottles of liquor in a burglary of the home of Peggy A. Enomoto, 1205 Lattie Lane, Homestead Valley, was reported by sheriff's deputies today.

Officers said entry was gained through an open bathroom window.

Mrs. Susan Mary Tennler, 122 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, told deputies someone entered a garage door of her home, ransacked the den, and made off with less than a dollar in change from a piggy bank.

Burglars also broke a garage door window to enter the home of Charles McInnis, 20 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands. Nothing was believed taken, however.

Werner F. Groebli, 288 Ellen Drive, Marinwood, told officers he and his wife returned home about 12:25 a.m. and saw a light on. Groebli said he honked his auto's horn and his wife shouted "police," causing the intruder to turn off the light and flee.

A neighbor called deputies, but no trace of the burglar was found. Nothing was believed missing.

Adele Fuse, San Francisco, said her unoccupied house at 7 Shell Road, Alto, was entered by cutting a bedroom screen. Nothing was taken, she added.

Novato Streets Due Facelifting

Grant will be resurfaced from Highway 101 to Scott Street, with work being performed a block at a time between 4 a.m. and noon, to avoid excessive traffic diversions.

Lawrence A. Coleman, Director of Public Works, asked Novato Council last night to call for bids on Aug. 23 for the resurfacing work, to start 20 days later.

Other streets to be resurfaced include McClay Road from Novato Boulevard to Center Road; Sutro Avenue from the north city limits to Oak Valley Drive; and a section of Arthur street from South Novato Boulevard west to Washington Street.

Transit Board To See Traffic Flow Report

The Marin County Transit District Board tonight will see a report on traffic flow in Marin prepared by the County Public Works Department. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at Civic Center.

The board also will consider the request of James Adam, Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Manager, for transit district endorsement of restriping Highway 101 from Waldo Grade to Greenbrae to provide four lanes of traffic each direction rather than three. The state division of highways must approve the plan.

Novato's Art Guild Slates Public Show

The Novato Art Guild will have a public art show Aug. 15 to Sept. 2 at the Torrance Art Gallery in San Anselmo.

A highlight of the show will be a reception at the gallery from 4 to 8 p.m. on Aug. 19 by the guild.

WAR

The planes hit 144 targets, two of them only seven miles from the vital Communist port of Haiphong.

For the first time in two days, the U.S. command announced no aircraft losses in the Communist North. But the Air Force disclosed that the top pilot of the war, Maj. James H. Kasler, 40, Indianapolis, was shot down in his F-105 Thunderchief 70 miles northwest of Hanoi on Monday.

Other airmen saw Kasler bail out and made radio contact with him on the ground but helicopters were unable to pick him up.

Meanwhile Premier Nguyen Cao Ky says he is willing to negotiate an end to the war with the Hanoi regime "under favorable conditions," the Los Angeles Times reported today.

"We would go to the conference table to tell them we draw the line at the 17th Parallel," Ky was quoted as telling Times correspondent William Tuohy during a flight yesterday to Tam Ky, where Ky was briefed on the current Operation Colorado.

Tuohy quoted the premier as saying:

"We would be willing to talk if they would be willing to compromise.

"We're not sitting down to give them a couple of provinces south of the 17th Parallel. They would have to withdraw their agents and soldiers from South Viet Nam.

"I'm not refusing to talk. The question is whether Ho Chi Minh will talk. Personally, I don't think Hanoi will accept negotiations now."

No Leads Found In Arson Probe

Investigation into possible arson in the Monday fire of one of the oldest homes in the San Geronimo Valley has been assigned to two sheriff's inspectors, but not leads had developed by noon today.

Inspector Marco Melovich said a deputy also is working on the case, the gutting of the house owned by Otho V. Waddell, 236 Butterfield Avenue, San Anselmo, and located at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and San Geronimo-Nicasio Road.

Firemen said the two-story building's kitchen door, normally locked, was open when they arrived. Sheriff's deputies also discovered signs the home had been ransacked. Damage estimate was $12,000.

Mill Valley Parents School Meeting Held

Approximately 60 persons attended a meeting last night at Richardson Bay School for Mill Valley parents sending their children to the Sausalito School this fall.

Eighty-one pupils have been signed up for the second year of the fifth through eighth grade program, reported Glenn Skelton, director of instruction and special services for the Mill Valley School District. The program is designed for 110 pupils, and openings for 29 more are available.

Burglars Enter Home, Make Off With Saw

Larkspur police yesterday discovered that someone had broken into the old Escalle Winery and home on Magnolia Avenue, making off with a power saw worth $150.

Cliff Howard Clark said he was on a patrol in the area when he noticed that a window of the seldom used home was broken. Locks had also been pried off the doors to the winery, he said.

Royalty Cut Ends Spoil Charge Fear

Fear of extra charges for spoils dredged from Corte Madera Creek were lifted yesterday by news that the State Land Commission had reduced the royalty charged to Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District.

The land commission agreed in Los Angeles Monday to the request of Deputy County Counsel Thomas S. Hendricks for assignment of an earlier dredging permit.

The earlier permit was issued to the Schultz Development Investment Co., with requirement for payment to the state of 1 cent a year, Hendricks explained.

This permit, issued in 1955, was never used by the firm. The lands commission was going to charge the county flood control district five cents a yard for spoils taken from the same area, so the action by the commission Monday will mean a saving of 4 cents a yard.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said yesterday that the total saving will be about $12,000.

Two Women Protestors Arrested

Karen Barbena of San Rafael was arrested by Contra Costa County sheriff's deputies and charged with resisting arrest and creating a public nuisance. She was released on $552 bail and was scheduled to appear Monday for arraignment in Port Chicago Justice Court.

Kay Holland of Fairfax was arrested by Marine Corps military police and was arrigned Monday before United States Commissioner Cameron Wolfe in Oakland, on a charge of trespassing on a government installation. She was released on her own recognizance. Commissioner Wolfe said today that her attorney, Beverly Axelrod of San Francisco, told him she will file to have the case transferred to United States District Court.

The women were among a group of demonstrators who tried to halt truck shipments of napalm to the naval station.

Diablo Access Lane Now Open

The new right turn lane from Diablo Avenue onto Highway 101 southbound was opened to the public this morning, according to Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works for Novato.

The new access lane to Highway 101 will reduce traffic congestion at the signal at Highway 101 and Diablo Avenue, Coleman said.

Larkspur To Plan October Art Show

Larkspur chamber of commerce directors yesterday voted to begin planning for a weekend open air art show in the city during October. Maggie Walker, local real estate broker, suggested the show and was asked to make plans for it.

The chamber also voted to begin purchasing planter boxes for trees it plans to place on Magnolia Avenue sidewalks in the downtown area.

District Attorney Given Name In Stabbing Case

A suspect in the stabbing of a San Quentin Prison inmate Saturday was named today by prison officials.

Evidence compiled against inmate Louis N. Talamantis, 23, of Los Angeles County, suspected of stabbing fellow convict Harry Luckett, 40, will be handed over to the Marin County District Attorney's office to determine future action, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Luckett was found wandering about the building Saturday with a file, fashioned like a knife, embedded in his back. He received treatment in the prison hospital.

Talamantis is serving a five years-to-life sentence for armed robbery and has been at San Quentin since last November.

Jury Selection Into Third Day

Jury selection in the murder trial of J. D. Jones, 30, charged with the Oct. 20, 1964, hammer slaying of his ex-wife, Mary L. Jones, went into its third day today in Marin Suepior Court.

Jones, of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly battered the victim to death following an argument over custody of their son, 3-year-old James Davis Jones Jr. The defendant has been in Atascadero State Hospital until being declared sane and able to stand trial.

He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. The case, prosecuted by Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, is being heard by Judge Jordan L. Martinelli. The public defender's office represents Jones.

Marinwood Fire Official Resigns

Stewart Price of 497 Idleberry Road resigned from the Marinwood Fire Commission last night, explaining that he would soon move to Domingo Canyon.

Commissioners named Charles Hassel of 579 Pinewood Drive to replace Price as acting chairman. The appointment must be confired by the Marinwood Community Services District Board.

Commissioners recommended that the CSD adopt a policy banning use of No. 2 fire truck for errands outside the district and order that no equipment leave the district unless on mutual assistance calls or other emergencies, Price reported today.

Water Line Breaks

A break in an eight inch water line in the 2200 block of Bridgeway in Sausalito late this morning flooded several businesses and reportedly washed away part of North Western Pacific Railroad's track bed. The break was in a private fire line serving the Flea Market, Sausalito Fire Chief Charles E. Masten said.

OBITUARIES

William J. Norton Dies; Rites Friday

BERKELEY (AP) — William J. Norton, 72, first business manager of the University of California, died last night.

He developed the program of building dormitories to house 20 per cent of the students at the Berkeley campus. Norton Hall is a dormitory named after him.

A native of Yolo County, Norton attended Richmond public schools and was graduated from the university in pharmacy in 1914. He was a pharmacist in Richmond, Modesto and Manteca until he became associated with the university's Agricultural Extension Division in 1919.

In 1922 he became manager of the Stanislaus County Farm Bureau. He rejoined the unnversity in 1937 to manage its exhibits at the Golden Gate International Exposition. President Robert Gordon Sproul appointed him business manager in 1941.

He is survived by his widow; a son, Marine Brig. Gen. William B. Norton; and a daughter, Mrs. Authene Battle.

Memorial services will be held at the Sunset Mausoleum in Berkeley at 2 p.m. Friday.

MILTON RODONI

Requiem mass for Milton D. Rodoni of 1032 Second Street, Novato, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

He died of a heart attack Monday afternoon in a doctor's office. He was 52.

A native of Novato, he was a veteran of World War II, serving as a sergeant in the army in Africa, Sicily, Italy and Middle Europe. He had managed his property since that time.

He was a member of the Lloyd Andrews Hamilton Post 540 of the American Legion.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Rodoni; a brother, Lloyd Rodoni and a sister, Mrs. Yvonne Perachiotti, all of Novato, and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Hugo of Terra Linda.

The Rosary service will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Mausoleum entombment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

GERALD NORBERG

Funeral services for Gerald J. Norberg, 41, who died yesterday of a heart attack in Long Beach, Wash., will be held Friday at noon from Frank J. Keaton Mortuary in Sausalito.

A veteran of World War II and the Korean War, Norberg served in the Navy until 1954 when he moved to Sausalito, working as a quartermaster on a sea-going dredge operated by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Norberg, who was a native of Duluth, Minn., was stricken while working aboard the dredge off the coast of Washington.

He is survived by his wife, Roberta Norberg, his mother, Mrs. Victoria M. Norberg, a sister, Mrs. Marguerite Draxten, and two brothers, Richard F. and James A. Norberg.

Interment will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. BREUER

Funeral for Mrs. Clara Breuer of 712 Del Mar Avenue, Novato, a former owner of a dry goods store, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. She died in her sleep early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Breuer and her husband, Otto, operated a dry good store on Grant Avenue for about 10 years, selling it about eight years ago. Since that time, she had been working as a registered nurse in a Petaluma Hospital. A native of Iowa, she was 55 years old.

She is survived by her husband, Otto; a son, Stephen Breuer of the U. S. Navy in San Diego; a daughter, Jana Breuer with the peace corps in Ankara, Turkey, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Witt of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Private inurnment will follow.

DR. WILLIAMS

Funeral was held at Carmel Monday for Dr. Jesse Feiring Williams, whose daughter, Mrs. William A. Atchley lives in Belvedere.

Dr. Williams, one of those responsible for the construction of the new Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula, died last Saturday after a short illness.

He was associate professor of physical education at Teachers College, Columbia University in 1919 and in 1923 was appointed full professor of physical education, serving for 18 years. He retired in 1941 as emeritus professor.

He leaves his wife, Gertrude Williams; two daughters, Mrs. Atchley and Mrs. Thomas N. Nicholl of Leawood, Kansas; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

JESSE COLEMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Funeral services for Jesse C. Coleman, for 26 years a San Francisco supervisor, will be held today.

Coleman, 87, died Sunday at Mt. Zion Hospital.

He was appointed to the board of supervisors in 1921 by Mayor James Rolph Jr., and was re-elected with wide majorities until he declined to run in 1947.

CORE Prepares Hiring Protest At Civic Center

The Marin chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality will hold a rally at noon Tuesday at the Civic Center to protest the alleged failure of the contractor on the Hall of Justice project to hire qualified workers from minority groups.

CORE maintains that the general contractor for the $11 million project, Robert McKee, has not met the requirement of his contract with the county that he hire workers from minority groups.

After the rally, CORE members will attend the afternoon session of the board of supervisors. Perry Howell, chairman of CORE's employment committee, plans to request the board to force McKee's compliance with the minority employment clause in his contract.

A meeting to plan the rally will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Unification Attempts Blasted At Hearing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state's "carrot and stick" approach to promoting school district unification was attacked from all sides during a hearing conducted by a Senate interim committee.

The education committee's two-day meeting concludes today.

Witnesses incuded both friends and critics of unification but there were very few advocates of the present law.

The statute seeks to sell unification with a $15 per pupil "bonus" in state aid to unified districts — the carrot — and a requirement that a unification proposal be submitted to the voters every two years until they accept it — the stick.

Witnesses who appeared during yesterday's opening session denounced the law in terms ranging from "ineffective" to "bribery and prostitution."

Dr. Ferd Kiesel, superintendent of the San Juan Unified District in suburban Sacramento, said mandatory unification elections "build animosities that are difficult to overcome."

Kiesel, who represented the California Assn. of School Administrators, said unification generally was a good thing but it was far from a cure-all for educational ills.

Dr. Mitchell Soso, assistant superintendent of the Santa Rosa City Schools, said the unification bonus encourages the voter "to prostitute his vote for the sake of financial advantage."

He said school districts sometimes become too big and provisions should be made to disunify districts as well as to unify them.

Large districts make education more impersonal, he said.

Dr. Dean A. Watkins, legislative chairman of the San Mateo County School Boards Association, said the requirements for unification elections every two years was "insulting" to the voters.

Mrs. Helen S. Kerwin, former chairman of the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization, said she favored unification of every area of the state. But, she said, the present law is not effective.

Mrs. Kerwin said the chances of obtaining additional unification through voluntary means are "practically nil."

She said the legislature should require unification by law regardless of the feelings of the voters in the local districts.

Kiesel said the educational opportunities offered by unified districts were generally superior to those offered by non-unified districts. But, he warned, the key is in adequate financing.

"Some people think if you put six poor districts together, you get a wealthy district," he said. "You don't. You get a big poor district."

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Summertime Is Playtime

Neighborhood Playground: A Child's Summer Home

While the older folks trek up to Mount Tamalpais and motor to the Point Reyes National Seashore or the beach, Marin County youngsters know that the heart of summertime fun is at the nearest playground.

The boys with their tattered gloves and battered baseballs know they can always find a buddy for catch.

When a few more stroll over, they can take turns knocking a few flies for fielding practice, and when the whole gang finally arrives, they can choose up sides and start a full-fledged ball game.

If it gets too hot to play ball, they can stop in at a neighborhood recreation center and play a little ping pong or even shoot some pool.

Every once in a while, there s a special event like the junior Olympics in San Rafael, where a whole playground group competes against boys and girls from other parts of town.

Then there are such festivities as San Rafael's Penny Carnival and Terra Linda's Hobo Week with which to occupy oneself during lazy summer days. And if it is organized activities the children are after, they'll find snooker, badminton, touchball, and even a drama course sponsored by the Fairfax Recreation Department at the Fairfax Pavilion.

There are days, too, when youngsters just loll around on the grass, looking at the sky and telling tall tales. Some of the more ambitious ones might try their hand at flying a kite, if the wind is right.

Smaller youngsters never tire of the swings and slides, and they cling tightly to self-propelled merry-go-rounds or bouncing horse rides as their impish giggles ring through the park.

To wit, there's hiking, cliff-climbing, and camping, and sometimes, when Mom or Dad get a chance to go, there are trips to the swimming pool.

Many youngsters have found summer fun in classes of folk guitar, ballet, and even judo in the summer program of the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department, which has even supplied activity for teens with dances and girls' charm classes.

And if there are some who really want to get out and get around, several recreation departments in the county are offering bi-monthly field trips to such places as Candlestick Park, Treasure Island, and various lakes and parks.

There is, also, a day camp for San Rafael children sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department, where young people spend the day working with arts and crafts and studying Indian lore and nature, giving mother that much-needed chance to catch up on her housework in quietude.

EVERYBODY IS A PIONEER IN NEW EDIFICE

Ever since San Rafael's new city hall opened for business Aug. 1, it seems that each governmental body that meets there has been trying to create a first.

The San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission broke the ice last Wednesday when it met in a conference room.

The next day, San Rafael Sanitation District directors were the first to meet in council chambers, but there were no audience seats.

Last night the San Rafael Planning Commission became the first city body to meet in the new chambers, although only half the audience seats were installed.

The city council, scheduled to meet Monday, probably will be the first to meet in completed chambers.

City Requests Los Ranchitos Name Change

San Rafael planning commissioners agreed last night that it is confusing when street names merge in the middle of a block.

In this case, they were referring to the area where Las Gallinas Avenue merges with Los Ranchitos Road.

They recommended that Los Ranchitos Road from the city limits to the northwest limit of the Northgate Shopping Unit Three, which is to be annexed to the city, be changed to Las Gallinas Avenue.

Since this would be a mid-block merger, commissioners felt it would be better if the street name changes occurred at an intersection.

With the nearest intersection in county territory, they recommended that the county change the name of Los Ranchitos Road to Las Gallinas Road in the unincorporated area from Northgate Drive to the city limits.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Elected Carl S. Brown vice chairman to succeed former commissioner V. Judson Klein, who was not re-appointed when his term expired.

2. Recommended that a four-and-a-half foot building setback be required on the east side of Verdi Street between Belvedere and Market streets and on the north side of Lisbon Street where property lines and curb lines are contiguous.

3. Granted Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael a use permit for a fill and cover dump on East Francisco Boulevard, east of San Quentin dump, to be used in conjunction with Ghilotti's contracting work.

4. Postponed action on a tentative map of the proposed East Francisco Boulevard Development, a seven-lot subdivision east of the dump, submitted by Marin Development Co., until Aug. 23.

5. Held its first session in the new city hall, although half the audience seats were not yet installed, and toured the city hall.

Commissioner Daniel L. Connell was absent.

Supervisors Veto Plea Over Shopping Center

Developers of the 119-acre Bear Creek residential area at the northeast corner of Marincello failed in their bid yesterday for a neighborhood shopping center on the Tennessee Valley Road frontage.

Marin supervisors held the commercial floor space to 8,000 square feet for the 3.4-acre commercial portion, following the recommendation of the county planning commission.

Designer Norma Gilroy charged that the commission had drawn the floor space figure "out of the air," but County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said this was not so. The planning staff had recommended 5,000 square feet; the developers had asked 30,000.

Supervisors yesterday ruled that the shopping space should be no larger than needed to serve the 240 homes in the Bear Creek development. Gilroy argued at length that the center should also serve residents of the 900 homes possible in the Tennessee Highlands area, the 520 in the Tennessee Valley portion of Marincello and 232 possible in other neighboring developments.

Zucker said a larger Bear Creek center would sap the market for Dolan's Corners, which already is in need of building up. He suggested that the more logical spot for a neighborhood center would be farther west, possibly across Tennessee Valley Road from the entrance to Marincello.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday also:

1. Asked study of the daily rate increases for county patients asked by Ross General Hospital. The request was for an increase from $20 to $22 a day for tuberculosis patients and from $36 to $40 for psychiatrict patients. Supervisors wanted to know rates in other Bay Area hospitals.

2. Approved an amendment in the zoning ordinance that will require architectural supervision of all multiple housing development.

3. Agreed to correct the minutes of March 18 showing that the board did act to ban Marincello access from Wolfback Ridge, and also authorized a buffer strip along Alto Avenue. The correction was requested by A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., attorney for Wolfback resident Warren Glass.

4. Allowed only two weeks extension of general relief for a disabled, 64-year-old woman after learning that her 61-year-old husband, also receiving county aid, had twice turned down jobs offered him. The department of public social services had recommended a 30-day extension. The couple has been getting $203 a month from the county.

5. Created a new sergeant position in the sheriff's department and promoted Deputy George J. Reuss to the post, increasing his pay from $753 to $790 a month. Ruess will be in charge of in-service training as well as supervising security officers at the Civic Center.

6. Agreed to request that data from an Army Corps of Engineers examination survey of erosion at Bolinas Beach be made available to the Bolinas Harbor District.

7. Ordered consolidation of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District election with the general election Nov. 8.

8. Adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Teen Center Cuts Down To One Night

The Teen Recreational Center at the West Marin Community Center, Point Reyes Station, has cut its operation to one night a week, Wednesdays from 6 to 10 p.m., according to Dr. Leslie R. Webber.

The center had been open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, but a drop in attendance forced a cutback, Dr. Webber reported.

Teen Rebuffs Attack By Four Youths

A quartet of youths apparently underestimated the pugilistic abilities of a 17-year-old Corte Madera youth when they jumped him in the Strawberry area Monday night, sheriff officers said today.

Deputy Ronald Spurrell said David Oberman, son of Albert Oberman of 722 Robin Drive, reported that he and a girl from Los Angeles were driving along Seminary Drive, Strawberry, when their car was forced to the roadside by the quartet's 1955 Chevrolet.

The occupants of the other car attacked the six-foot, three-inch tall Oberman, according to the report, but learned he was no easy victim. In the affray, one youth retreated to his car, returned with a 20-inch club and struck Oberman with it.

The girl started to drive away to seek help but looked back and saw the four fleeing in their vehicle. Oberman was shaken, officers said, but not seriously injured.

Naphtali Knox Quits Committee In Mill Valley

The chairman of the Mill Valley architectural advisory committee, Naphtali H. Knox, has resigned from the commission, effective Sept. 15, to take a new post at the University of Chicago.

Knox has been responsible for planning University of California campuses throughout the state for almost three years. At Chicago, he will fill the new position of assistant vice president for planning. He was likewise the first person to fill the position of community planner at UC.

He has served on the committee since he came here.

Air Base Bids Called

Bids for the proposed repair of street lighting and alteration of several buildings at Hamilton Air Force Base will be opened Aug. 26, officials of the Air Force base procurement office disclosed today. Bids for the alterations will be opened at 10 a.m. and for the lighting repairs will be opened at 2 p.m.

Grant Made To Activities Center Plan

A federal grant of $17,554 to launch the proposed $360,000 senior citizens activities center at Civic Center has been made to the Marin Senior Coordinating Council.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced the grant yesterday in a list of federal funds for local agencies in projects designed to utilize skills and abilities of older men and women.

The grant will be used to start designing the center, destined to become the heart of senior citizens programs in the county. It will occupy two acres leased to the council by the supervisors for $1 a year for 99 years.

Mrs. Vera Schultz, president of the council, said the officials are currently engaged in recruiting a project director for the center.

Ann McCorry, council secretary, said the director's salary will come out of the grant, which is actually an allocation for the first year's operation. Requirements for the position include a Master's Degree, an active experience in gerentology and creative work with older people.

Brown Vetoes Private Deals For Welfare

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has rejected a program, agreed to by the Department of Social Welfare, that he said would wind up with the state subsidizing efforts of welfare recipients to get more aid.

He ordered department head John Wedemeyer to drop the programs agreed to in Alameda, Contra Costa and Monterey counties. Wedemeyer said he would, and that the contracts for the program had been negotiated only with the understanding that a final review was required.

PRIVATE GROUPS

Wedemeyer explained that the contracts called for the federal and state governments to give about $26,000 to private organizations of welfare recipients in each of the three counties.

In turn, the organizations were to use the funds to explain to those on welfare in the counties what programs were open to them, how to work with local public welfare offices, and what their own obligations as recipients were.

Brown in a strongly worded letter to Wedemeyer yesterday said "I strongly disapprove of some of the elements of these contracts and I am disturbed that there was no consultation with either the health and welfare administrator or my office before agreements with these private 'welfare advocacy' groups were signed."

He added: "I am opposed to state government subsidy of groups formed primarily to bring pressures on state and local government under any circumstances — even when there are firm guarantees of no picketing, lie - ins, or other demonstrations."

BROWN'S VIEWS

An Alameda County welfare recipients' group has picketed and staged other demonstrations over the adequacy of the program in that area.

The governor said he also is "firmly opposed to spending money to subsidize private groups whose purposes include education of people on how to qualify for welfare."

Detroit Expected To Hike 1967 Auto Prices Sharply

DETROIT (UPI) — The price tag on 1967 model cars due out next month will be sharply higher, and another price boost is due for 1968.

The auto companies guard their pricing plans as closely as they do new designs, and there are fewer leaks. But sources close to the industry predict price increases between $50 and $200 for the 1967 models—and chances were good they'll be closer to the higher figure.

For five years, new car prices have remained generally stable. The actual price tag has climbed some during those years, but the increases reflected only the addition of certain items that up to then had been optional equipment.

There will be many new items on 1967 cars that in most cases never were options before. Among them are increased padding, dual hydraulic brakes and collapsible steering shafts.

Pro-Reagan Black Muslim Loses Poverty War Work

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Complaining that he is mixing politics with government work, the Labor Department has cut off a job training program run by a Republican-oriented Black Muslim.

Clarence Gentry, who gets a salary of $10,000 annually for heading the project, also runs a free community newspaper circulated in Negro areas that raps Democrats, the antipoverty program and boosts the candidacy of Ronald Reagan, GOP candidate for governor.

Morris E. Skinner, regional director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, sent Gentry a letter yesterday saying the project is finished. Department policy, he explained, prohibits "the award of manpower training contracts in which the administration of such contract would be comingled or closely identified with partisan political activity."

He added: "In view of all the circumstances regarding the conduct of this on-the-job training project, the Department of Labor has concluded that it was not in the best interest of the government to award this contract in the first instance nor would it be in the best interest of the government to continue it."

Gentry set up the program himself, went to Washington for approval when local officials balked, and won $134,000 to train men on the job at local businesses. The program began in March and was aimed at helping residents of Del Paso Heights, a low-income area in northern Sacramento with a large Negro population.

He made no secret of his membership in the militant Negro nationalistic sect, the Black Muslims, or of his political activity. He contended yesterday that Democrats helped get his project closed down.

Rest Of Trio Arraigned On Tam Episode

Two young men were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on charges of trespassing and maliscious mischief in a Saturday assault on the county's fire lookout tower on Mount Tamalpais.

The pair, Philip David Tammer, 25, and Lawrence Coopersmith, 22, along with a third defendant, Sandra Moss, 20, who was arraigned on the same charges Monday, all pleaded innocent. Visiting Judge George G. Tyler of Siskiyou County scheduled court trial for the trio for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Fire Warden Gregory Jennings, stationed at the tower, said the trio awakened him, that they were "acting very odd, yelling and screaming," and that Tammer made a violent assault on the tower.

He quoted Coopersmith as saying they all were on an LSD "trip." All three are from San Francisco.

Birth Rise Linked To Blackout

NEW YORK (UPI) —Last November the lights went out as the Northeast suffered a massive power failure. Today, just nine months after the blackout, metropolitan hospitals were reporting a jump in the birth rate.

Coney Island Hospital led the double the normal number of babies being delivered in the past two days.

Traffic was also heavy in the delivery rooms at Brookdale Hospital, where doctors reported a 33 per cent rise in the number of births.

Dr. Robert W. Hodge, a sociologist who studied the effects of the blackout said it was "not unreasonable" to blame an increase in sexual activity directly on the blackout.

"Our data show that most people wound up at home. They didn't have access to a major source of amusement—television. Under the circumstances it's not unreasonable to assume that a lot of sex life went on," he said.

Some Manhattan hospitals, however, reporting "slight increases," refused to acknowledge any extraordinary reason behind the rise in the number of births.

Embezzlement Sentencing Set

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday scheduled judgment of Mrs. Jacqueline E. Gianola, former secretary of Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District, for Aug. 30 on her earlier guilty plea to embezzling district funds.

Mrs. Gianola, 32-year-old mother of five children, had pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court last Wednesday to taking $1,065 in cash water bill payments from district customers over a period from November of 1964 through last April.

She was then certified to the Superior Court for sentencing. The money loss was revealed in a July 1 county audit.

Novato General Plan Passes With Stripes

A bright shade of apple green on a map was too much for one Marin county supervisor to swallow yesterday, so he insisted on a change to stripes before a unanimous vote to adopt the Novato general plan.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen objected to the plan's map display yesterday with the apple green used to show landscape areas on major highways and hillsides.

Planning director Paul C. Zucker said use of the land will be guided by the text of the plan, which says no property would be confiscated from the use shown and that landscaping by an owner could give him credit for higher density development elsewhere on his land.

Kettenhofen insisted the designation on a map could scare off any buyers. He got strong support from County Clerk George H. Gnoss, who discovered an apple green area on a hillside he owns in east Novato.

"You are 100 per cent right," Gnoss said, stepping down from his desk as county clerk. "There are other hillsides all around, why should mine be discolored?"

Zucker and the county planning staff were unable to answer Gnoss. His property is in the Novato city limits and the city council must decide the fate of the land.

Paul Smith of the consulting firm of Wilsey, Hamm and Blair, spoke against the apple green designation for a hillside owned by Anderson and Rowe west of the interchange of Highway 101 and 37.

Supervisors, however, said the hill should not be developed since it is seen by motorists entering Marin. Nevertheless Kettenhofen's argument prevailed. Zucker said the landscaped area would be shown with stripes.

Four Chosen For Personnel Commission

Marin County Supervisors yesterday picked four certain appointments from a list of 23 applicants for seats on the reorganized Marin County Personnel Commission.

Chosen were two incumbent members—Margaret Lucas and Julius H. Selinger—plus Mrs. Muriel Appenzeller of San Rafael and Hugh C. Marchant, a San Anselmo real estate man.

They each received three votes or more in secret balloting by the board yesterday. Supervisors cast weighted votes, ranging from five for first choice on down.

The fifth member is to be picked next Tuesday from those receiving at least one vote. They were Mrs. Bella Aaron and incumbent commissioners Lloyd C. Brooks, David B. Burbank, Victor P. Reed, E. A. Peterle and Leonard L. Born.

Marin Law Student Joins Honor Society

John H. Colteaux of 141 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael, is one of 14 Stanford University law students recently elected to the Order of the Coif, national law school honor society.

Coif, established in 1912, honors students in the top 10 per cent of the graduating class of law schools in the United States.

Supervisors Hire 15 New Employees

Fifteen men and women joined the ranks of county employees yesterday.

County supervisors hired Doria H. Sturgeon as deputy clerk in municipal court at $399 monthly; Janet V. Farris as deputy clerk in municipal court at $440; Lonnie G. Carter as deputy probation officer at $590; Joseph M. Teixeira as groundsman at $536; Laura C. Ford and Mary Kelly, each as half time public health nurses at $281; La Verne M. Solus as social worker II at $562; Louise A. Ault as senior clerk in welfare at $380; Hazel D. Leitch as intermediate account clerk in welfare at $399; Sandra Zukowski as intermediate typist clerk in welfare at $362; Randall Burroughs as computer operator at $536; Alton Ford as half-time janitor in the schools department at $199.50; Catharine A. Berringer as intermediate clerk in the recorder's office at $362; James McKenna, program coordinator for the War on Poverty at $800; and Henry F. Strohmeyer as radio technician at $683.

$276 Fine, Probation For Drunken Driving

Richard LeVerne Strong, 24, of 75 Sequoia Road, Fairfax, was fined $276 and placed on a year's probation Monday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by California Highway Patrol July 14.

Robert Henry Jorgensen, 55, San Francisco, was fined $75, given three days in county jail, and placed on a year's probation, also for drunken driving. Novato police arrested him Friday on South Novato Boulevard.

Election Laws Violation Charged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An unsuccessful Democratic Assembly candidate, his wife and two campaign aides have been indicted by the county grand jury for alleged violations of the state election laws.

The jury said yesterday that David Keene Leavitt, 36, a Beverly Hills lawyer, and the others, authorized the printing and distribution of post cards and sample ballots indicating official Democratic Party support for Leavitt in the June 7 primary.

Both pieces of literature, the jury said, failed to carry disclaimers which are called for by law and read:

"The endorsement hereon is by an unofficial political group."

Indicted with Leavitt were his campaign manager, Mrs. Marden Rothstein, Leavitt's wife, Aileen, and Miss Karen Crutcher. A spokesman for Leavitt called the indictments unfounded. No arraignment date has been set.

They're pretty amazing, these I-J Want-Ads. They can sell a tractor, get a job, find a puppy. And do it fast, at low cost.

Do they have a secret power? Nuclear energy? Special ingredient? No. Something better than that—human interest. The interest of more than 40,000 families in Marin who read I-J Classified night after night. To sell what they want, and find what they need.

Behind every I-J Want-Ad, then, is this amazing human drive to find a bargain, or sell one . . . to look to the largest single marketplace in Marin County for action. Imagine, thousands of people looking, weighing, deciding to buy . . . all because this is the great LOCAL MEDIUM that meets every local need.

When you advertise a sofa, a horse, a hi-fi, an appliance, the huge I-J reader audience SELECTS YOUR OFFER in the classification under which you run your Want-Ad. Can't miss it! Wouldn't miss it. (Because they know other buyers are in the market, too!).

Buyers are actually LOOKING FOR YOUR AD! That's the secret. Human interest that moves into action fast.

Better get your ad in . . . and see for yourself. But stay handy to the phone. There's nothing like I-J Want-Ads to ring the bell!

Pleadings Delayed In Extortion Case

Mrs. Willie Marie Fritz, 46, neatly dressed and declaring she was in a bit of shock, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on three felony counts of extorting several thousand dollars by threatening exposure of intimacies with a widely known Berkeley home builder.

Arraigned with her was a companion, Henry Jacob Soderlind, 55, of 85 Poplar Avenue, Ross, on a fourth and joint count of attempted extortion. Visiting Judge George G. Tyler of Siskiyou County then granted request of their attorney, Hadden Roth, for a continuance until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday for plea entries.

Both are free on $2,750 bail each.

Mrs. Fritz, of 223 Redwood and declined to make any comment. She is accused of obtaining an estimated $160,000 cash from Joseph M. Walker, owner of Walker-Built Homes Inc., Berkeley, by threatening to tell his wife and business associate of intimacies she allegedly had with Walker during a two-year period starting in 1956.

JOSEPH M. WALKER
Claims blackmail

She and Soderlind are also accused of trying to obtain a final $40,000 to $45,000 from Walker earlier this year.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Otto E. Nobis of Stockton was elected supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias today. He will be installed Friday.

Supervisors Cautious On Ambulance Idea

Marin County supervisors yesterday called for more information on a scheme by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer to improve ambulance service in West Marin.

With increasing population and the greater use of the Point Reyes National Seashore, Storer maintained that an ambulance stationed at Point Reyes has become a necessity. Storer said he had located a second-hand ambulance and the county garage had found it in good condition.

He said the vehicle could be housed at the Point Reyes Station fire house and be manned either by firemen or sheriff's deputies.

It would cost $2,500. Storer said he had received hints from the Inverness Improvement Assn. and the West Marin Lions Club that members would pay part of this. The cost, nevertheless, drew comments from Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Peter H. Behr.

Leydecker thought it a subject for the county-city services committee. He objected to city taxpayers having to help pay.

"The only burden on the county is to save lives," reported Storer, and if we can't contribute $1,000 to make an ambulance available at Point Reyes then it is a shame."

Behr asked if it was legal to ask people picked up by the ambulance to pay "a modest charge."

Hospital Begins Patient Cutback As Strike Looms

PALO ALTO (UPI) — The Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital has begun reducing its patient-load in the face of a threatened walkout by nurses demanding higher pay.

Administrators of the 572-bed facility announced yesterday that the hospital was now accepting only admission of emergency patients. They added every non-emergency patient would be discharged by Sunday.

The nurses said they would resign Monday unless they get a pay boost from $436-$631 a month to $530-$782. The hospital Monday night offered a scale of $505-$745 but the nurses refused.

A spokesman for the nurses said they would provide an emergency pool of nurses in the event of the walkout.

AUGUST IS a good month for for halibut steaks and grapes. Put the two together and you have Halibut Tokay, an idea developed by the Halibut Assn. of North America in observance of Fish 'n Seafood Parade, which is on throughout the month of October.

Rosy Watermelon Preserve Accompaniment To Meal

Sliced Ham Salad Bowl
Rosy Melon Preserve Rolls
Cookies Beverage

ROSY MELON PRESERVE

8 cups cubed (1 inch) watermelon (seeds discarded)
2½ cups sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 slice lemon, ¼-inch thick
Spice bag of ½ cinnamon stick and ½ teaspoon whole cloves

Turn the watermelon into a colander; using palms, gently press out as much of the juice as you can without mashing fruit too hard. Allow to drain for 1 hour. Turn drained melon and remaining ingredients into a large kettle. Bring to a boil; boil gently, stirring occasionally for 1 hour. Pack melon into sterilized hot wide-mouth canning jars; fill with syrup leaving headspace; seal with caps. Syrup remaining from preserve; may be used various ways. Makes 2 to 3 one-half pints.

Recipe From The Armenians Adds Vermicelli To Rice

The Armenian cuisine adds vermicelli to rice!

Shish Kebabs Armenian Rice
Snap Beans Combination Salad
Orange Compote Honey Crisps

ARMENIAN RICE

3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup vermicelli, broken into ½-inch pieces
¾ cup converted-type rice
1¾ cups seasoned fat-free chicken stock, boiling hot

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter. Add vermicelli and over moderate heat, stirring almost constantly, cook vermicelli until golden-brown. Stir in rice and hot stock. Cover tightly and simmer until stock is entirely absorbed and rice tender — 30 to 35 minutes. If necessary, add a little more stock; this should be done cautiously because at end of cooking period, rice should steam tender. Makes 4 servings.

Custard Mold Is Salad Or Dessert

Homemakers really like this Orange-Lemon Custard Mold topped with Cheddar or Swiss cheese as a main dish salad at a bridge luncheon (the recipe makes 12 servings) or as a light-tasting, not-too-sweet dessert particularly for late in the evening entertaining when it is most satisfying to taste-buds and appetites. So say home economists for the Dairy Council of California who had this neighborhood tested just to be sure. As mentioned above, the recipe makes 12 servings.

2 3-ounce packages orange flavored gelatin
1¾ cup boiling water
1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) crushed pineapple, undrained
1 6-ounce can frozen orange juice, undiluted
1 package (3⅜ ounces) lemon pudding and pie filling mix
2 eggs, slightly beaten
⅓ cup sugar
1¾ cups cold water
1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream
1½ cups grated sharp Cheddar or Swiss cheese

Dissolve orange gelatin in boiling water. Add crushed pineapple (juice and all) and frozen orange juice, broken into chunks. Stir until juice is well blended. Pour into 9x13x2-inch pan; refrigerate until firm. Combine lemon pudding mix with eggs, sugar and ½ cup cold water. Stir until smooth. Add remaining cold water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil and is very thick. Cool, stirring occasionally. Add dairy sour cream and spread over gelatin mixture. Sprinkle grated Cheddar or Swiss cheese over custard topping, pressing down very lightly. Chill thoroughly.

THIS TWO-LAYERED Orange-Lemon Custard Mold topped with grated Cheddar or Swiss cheese can be served as a main dish for lunch or as a dessert when a light-tasting, not-too-sweet dessert is most satisfying to taste-buds and appetites.

Grapefruit Granita—Cool Refreshment

Italian cuisine has simple but marvelous summer offerings—water ices that have a fascinating texture. When the well-known food writer, Nika Standen Hazelton, was a child, she spent summers in Italy. In one of her cookbooks she recalls these Italian ices—with nostalgia.

They are "honest undiluted fruit juices, mixed with sugar only, and frozen to a mush that is incredibly cool on a hot day," says Nika.

Then she adds, "Granite, as these semisolid water ices are called, were favorites of the Romans — those ancient bon vivants used snow from the Appenines, and honey for sweetening."

No snow from the Appenines have we, but we do have excellent frozen fruit-juice concentrates to use in granite. Recently we tried a refreshing granita made with frozen concentrated grapefruit juice. In this American recipe, the sweetened concentrate is coupled with a sugar syrup, and ginger ale is also used.

We found this Grapefruit Granita both refreshing and interestingly different. Water ices and sherbets of orange, lemon and lime flavors may be bought, but we've never come upon a frozen dessert of grapefruit flavor in the usual shops. Here's the recipe for those cooks who are interested to try it.

GRAPEFRUIT GRANITA

1 cup sugar
1½ cups water
1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated sweetened grapefruit juice
¾ cup ginger ale

Chilled parfait (6-ounce size) or similar glasses.

Into a medium saucepan turn the sugar and water; over low heat stir until sugar dissolves; quickly bring to a boil; lower heat and simmer without stirring for 5 minutes; remove from heat. Add the undiluted sweetened grapefruit concentrate and stir to defrost; stir in ginger ale.

Pour into an ice-cube tray (1-quart size) with grids removed. Place in ice-cube section of freezer (do not stir) until firm—2 to 3 hours. When it is ready, granita should have a texture that is snowlike plus some spots of almost free-flowing thick syrup; at this point the granita should be served. To do so, use a sturdy metal kitchen spoon of medium size; scrape the tip of the spoon over the granita to make large shavings. Spoon the shavings into the chilled parfait glasses; serve at once with iced teaspoons and straws. If fresh mint is at hand, you may wish to garnish the granita with some of the sprigs. Makes 4 to 5 servings. This recipe may be successfully doubled. In this case, the granita should be frozen in 2 ice-cube trays.

Note: If the granita is left in the freezer for as long as overnight, it will be like frozen snow without the syrupy almost free-flowing admixture. You may still be able to shave it with the spoon—especially if you let it stand in the refrigerator or at room temperature until it softens a bit. We like the hard-frozen granita served in sherbet glasses with vanilla ice cream. (AP).

Idea For Halibut Tokay Is Strictly California Dish

Halibut Tokay is as American as Filets de Sole Veronique is French. Both combine fish and grapes.

The idea for Halibut Tokay started in California where the famous Tokay grapes are grown. It was developed by the Halibut Assn. of North America especially for Fish 'n Seafood Parade, celebrated every year during October when seafoods of all varieties are abundant and reasonable.

Tokay grapes in North America are produced only within a six-mile radius of the town of Lodi, at the northern tip of the fertile San Joaquin Valley. You can recognize Tokay grapes by their beautiful unique color that isn't quite rose and isn't quite purple. The natives of Kabylia, the Algerian province where the grapes were first grown, called them "Amar bou amar," which translates "red father of red."

The halibut, with which the grapes are combined, also has an illustrious history. From ancient times, the fish we know as halibut has been highly prized by the people of Northern Europe. Early Teutons in Scandinavia caught halibut in Fjords; Celtic fishermen took them from the Scottish firths. The English served halibut on holyday feasts, calling it "holy-day butte," — butte being the middle-English word for flat fish. came "holibut" and later "Halibut."

HALIBUT TOKAY

2 pounds halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup rose wine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup light cream
1 cup seeded Tokay grapes

If halibut is frozen, let stand at room temperature about 30 minutes to defrost. Sprinkle onion in bottom of buttered baking dish. Place halibut steaks over onions in dish; spinkle with salt and pepper and dot with 1 tablespoon of butter. Pour lemon juice and wine over fish. Cover dish with aluminum foil and bake in a 350 degree (moderate) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. (If fish is still frozen, lengthen cooking time). Meanwhile, melt the remaining 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan; stir in flour. When fish is cooked, remove baking dish from oven and reset oven to broil. Carefully pour or spoon juices from baking dish into measuring cup; then gradually pour the juices into the butter-flour mixture in saucepan, stirring constantly. Stir in light cream; cook, stirring, until slightly thickened. Add grapes and cook just long enough to heat grapes. Pour sauce with grapes over fish. Place dish in broiler to lightly brown surface and reheat fish. Serve garnished with parsley and a bunch of Tokay grapes.

'PUTTING UP'

It's Time For Jams, Jellies

A young mother we know has just tried her hand at making preserves, using commercial pectin, and a prouder cook we have never seen.

If you would like to "put up" some jelly and some jam, made from a combination of peaches and plums, you may be interested in the following recipe. Store the glasses of jam and jelly away and you'll enjoy serving them when you're giving brunch parties; perhaps, too, you will want to give some as gifts.

PEACH-PLUM JELLY AND JAM

3 pounds (about) fully ripe peaches
3 pounds (about) fully ripe plums
1 cup water
10½ cups sugar
2 packages (each 1¾ ounces) powdered fruit pectin

Peel, pit and grind the peaches. Pit the plums (do not peel) and grind them. Into a saucepan, turn the ground peaches and plums and the water. Bring to a boil; lower heat, cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Line a large sieve with a dauble thickness of cheesecloth; set the sieve over a deep bowl; turn the hot simmered fruit into the lined sieve. Allow the fruit to drain. Use the juice and the fruit in the sieve in the following two operations for a batch of jelly and one of jam.

Measure 4 cups of the juice and pour it into a large kettle. Set aside 5 cups of the sugar. Stir 1 package of the fruit pectin into the juice in the kettle. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in the 5 cups sugar. Stirring constantly, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from heat; with a large metal kitchen spoon, skim off the foam; quickly pour into 9 medium-size jelly glasses. Cover at once with ⅛-inch of hot paraffin.

Measure the fruit in the seive into a large kettle, adding enough water — if necessary — to make 4½ cups. Set aside the remaining 5½ cups sugar. Stir the remaining package of fruit pectin into the fruit in the kettle. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in the 5½ cups sugar. Stirring constantly, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from heat; with a large metal kitchen spoon, skim off the foam; then stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Quickly ladle into 10 medium-size jelly glasses. Cover at once with ⅛-inch of hot paraffin. (AP)

Vegetable Croquettes Wholesome Main Dish

VEGETABLE CROQUETTES

2 packages (each 10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables
½ cup enriched cornmeal
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
½ teaspoon marjoram
Pepper to taste
1 cup fine dry breadcrumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten with ⅓ cup cold water

Cook vegetables according to package directions; drain, saving liquid. Stir together cornmeal, salt and 1 cup cold water. Add enough water to saved vegetable liquid to make 1 cup; in a saucepan bring to a boil; slowly stir in cornmeal mixture. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Reduce heat; cover; cook 5 minutes, stirring several times. Remove from heat; add vegetables, marjoram and pepper. Cool about 1 hour. Shape into cone form, using ¼ cup of mixture for each. Roll in bread crumbs; dip in egg mixture; roll again in breadcrumbs. Let stand 10 minutes. Fry in skillet in 1-inch of hot fat or in deep-fate fryer (350 degrees) until golden-brown; drain. May be kept warm on cookie sheet in slow (300 degrees) oven. Makes 6 servings.

GUIDING LIGHT

Marinites Train Amigos Anonymous

By MARGARET ZIMMERMAN

Amigos Anonymous has a little over a month to finish a summer job of humanitarian work in Mexico that follows a strenuous six-month program of orientation and self-discipline set down by training advisors Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Baca of San Rafael.

AN OVER-ALL GROUP of about 300 young people, most of them college students from all parts of California, Amigos Anonymous does Peace Corps work in Mexico, a country where the Peace Corps is not allowed and probably never will be, according to Nacho Estrella, Mexican advisor to Amigos Anonymous. The parent organization of the California group is CIASP —Conference on Inter-America Student Projects — 57 United States and Canadian colleges doing a sizable job of humanitarian work in Latin America second only to the Peace Corps.

Considered the guiding light of Bay Area Amigos Anonymous participants, Arturo Baca is a man who has not seen light himself since he went blind at the age of 26. He teaches Spanish at Terra Linda High School, has taught French and Latin also, and his wife, Mary, as equally interested in Amigos Anonymous, is also a school teacher in the county, presently with the Dixie School District.

In 1954 on a business trip to Honduras for United Fruit Co., following his graduation from University of California Polytechnic, Baca became seriously aware of the tremendous poverty of the underprivileged in that country, and on his own time worked with the people as best he could, mainly in the schools.

UPON HIS RETURN, and after going completely blind, he continued his studies at the University of California at Davis, switching from agriculture to foreign languages. Once a Fulbright nominee, Baca was sent to the University of Valencia in Spain twice on a Delamo Foundation and other private grants to further his studies in Spanish. His second year there he met his wife, also a summer student at University of Valencia, and married her in 1961 after she graduated from Holy Names College in Oakland.

They moved directly to San Rafael where Baca joined the foreign language staff at Terra Linda and his wife got her teaching credentials at Dominican.

THROUGH MUTUAL interest and awareness of humanitarian needs in Mexico, the Bacas took a volunteer advisory position with Amigos Anonymous four years ago. They have spent considerable time in Mexico with the Amigos, traveling from one project to another, smoothing problems as they occurred, and lending valuable assistance wherever needed.

"Being an Amigo is not easy," says Baca, "and through a tough orientation and study period from January to June, usually two out of three drop out of the program. This is the value of the preparatory training, to make sure the ones that go down know what it really is to be an Amigo, the hardships they'll endure, the cultural shock, along with the tremendous satisfaction of doing a necessary job well."

THERE ARE NINE Amigos from Marin County in Mexico now, with Lydia Haran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Haran Jr. of San Rafael, the area leader. A senior at Dominican, she is in her fourth year in Mexico. Dr. James Donovan of San Rafael is personnel advisor to the group.

Dan Onorato, a seminary student at St. Patrick's in Menlo Park, is from San Anselmo, spending his third year in Mexico. He is the nephew of Father Joseph O'Looney, who was inspired to take a group of California and Stanford students to Mexico five years ago, returning to his Newman Hall post at the University of California to organize Amigos Anonymous. Another seminary student, Blake Rogers of San Rafael, returned to Mexico this year for continued Amigos Anonymous work.

Others from Marin, either there for the first time or returning for second or third years, are Cavan Holliday of San Rafael, a junior at Dominican; Victoria Presson of San Rafael, a sophomore at Dominican; Susanna Reid of Belvedere, a sophomore at University of California; Mike Jacobs of San Rafael, a junior at St. Mary's; Gene Maidini of San Rafael, a junior at University of San Francisco, and Flora Mancebo of San Rafael, also a teacher at Terra Linda High School.

MUCH OF THE success of Amigos Anonymous in Mexico hinges on the orientation and study program, because it is hardly a country club life the young people lead, and there are even days, one of the Amigos said, that no one is sick. The responsibilities of being an Amigo are their own, said Baca. Getting to know the people and earning their confidence is their first job. After that they assist in schools, clinics, home and health education, harvesting of crops, road work, home industry and sanitation.

THEY BUILT ONE school in the village of La Viellta named St. Raphael's del Sur after Marin's parochial school, St. Raphael's, and this year they're finishing another school in another village.

Getting water to the villages is a pet project of Amigos, said Lydia Haran, and some of the means of accomplishment are ingenious.

The students of Amigos Anonymous personally gather all the equipment they need, load six old trucks, held together with wire and a prayer, with medical supplies construction equipment, art and school material. They supply their own transportation costs and insurance—and drive as best they can through Mexico to the two southern plateau states of Michoacan and Guanajuato. One of the trucks had to have its tires watered every few miles to keep them

Presidio Chapel Setting For Wedding Of Barbara N. Finn

Barbara Nan Finn, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Frank M. Finn of San Rafael, became the bride of Lt. j.g. John Gregg Hilger of Bloomington, Ind., in a wedding ceremony held at Chapel of Our Lady at the Presidio of San Francisco recently.

Acting as best man was Phillip Hilger, brother of the bridegroom, and ushering were Arthur Dawson of San Anselmo and John Finn of San Carlos. Following a reception at the Officers' Club at Fort Mason, the couple left on a wedding trip to Hawaii where they will make their home.

Barbara, who attended high school in Vicenza, Italy, also attended University of Maryland and school in Munich, Germany. She was employed as court reporter for Albert E. Polonsky, an attorney in San Francisco.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Creta Hilger of Bloomington, Ind., and was graduated from University of Indiana. He is a pilot with the U. S. Navy, stationed in Hawaii, and is the brother of Brenda Hilger.

Toastmistresses To Meet Tomorrow

Mrs. Ted Schnieder will be the toastmistress when the Novato Toastmistress Club meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the hospitality room of the Bank of Marin in Novato.

Mrs. Edward Skeels, program chairman announced that Mrs. B. K. Varney will present table topics. Mrs. John Haines will give the invocation and pledge and speakers for the evening will include an informative speech by Mrs. George Hayford, a reading by Mrs. Ronald Schlegel and a review by Mrs. Harvey Simpkins.

Lexicology will be under the direction of Mrs. Roy Peterson, timer will be Mrs. Paul Richards and evaluators will be Mesdames Parland Johnstone, Max English and John Machado.

Mrs. Lawrence Coleman, president, will appoint her new chairman for the club year.

LEAVING ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH in San Rafael after their recent wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Leithold Stevens. The bride is the former Mary Elizabeth Jones of Sacramento.

Mill Valleyans Recommend Freighter For Relaxed Trip

By MOLLY MARIN

Crossing the ocean on a Norwegian freighter for Mrs. Kenneth Rall and golf for Mr. Rall were the highlights of the trip abroad from which they have just returned to Mill Valley. A teacher of child development at the College of Marin, Mrs. Rall said the month-long trip on the freighter was the best way in the world to relax. Meals were wonderful, accommodations excellent and it was absolutely marvelous, she declared, not to be assaulted with things to do. When she arrived in London, Mr. Rall flew to meet her and after spending a fortnight there they went to St. Ives and stayed at the Tregonna Castle Hotel for golf. Golf was the objective again after another five days in London when they left for Scotland and the Gleneagles Hotel near Edinburgh. Before returning home they spent three days in Dublin.

SAILING TODAY aboard the Lurline for a vacation in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lehmkuhl of Sausalito.

HOME IN Mill Valley after a six weeks' trip to England and the Continent are Mr. and Mrs. Laurence M. Symmes and their four children, Marilyn, 17; Anthony, 15; Billy, 7, and Jonathan, 6. They flew over the Polar route to London, where they visited with Mrs. Symmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Boyce, and her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Johnson in Sussex. They then flew to Amsterdam and went via the Hague to Rotterdam, where they boarded a luxurious excursion cruiser for five days on the Rhine river, landing at Basel, Switzerland, which they toured by train. In Geneva they picked up a car and drove via Lyons to Paris and made a special trip to Cote St. Andre, the birthplace of Berlioz, one of Mr. Symmes' favorite composers. They returned to London for another three days before flying to New York for a visit with Mr. Symmes' parents, the Laurence Symmes of Scarsdale. Finding pandemonium in New York on account of the airlines strike, they managed to get a train to Chicago and another train to Minneapolis and finally a plane to San Francisco.

CORINTHIAN Yacht Club's annual Shipwreck dinner dance, originally scheduled for Saturday, has been postponed to Aug. 27. Hal Monozon, entertainment chairman, is in charge.

Novato Newcomers Schedule Luncheon

The Novato Newcomers Club members will hold their monthly meeting and luncheon at the Cherish Inn in the Strawberry Shopping Center in Mill Valley Aug. 17.

A social hour will be held at 11 a.m. followed by luncheon at noon. The program will be the weekly fashion show presented at the Inn.

Mrs. William Plummer and Mrs. Charles Rodriquez are accepting reservations.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Juvenile Adults Are Making Life Miserable For Their Neighbors

DEAR HELEN:

We had to wait most of our lives to own a home we could afford. This is a supposedly good neighborhood, yet from the night we moved in, we have been harassed, intimidated and shunned.

It started with doorbells ringing at 3 a.m.; then knocking at our windows, broken locks and an attempt to break down our porch. They hit our house with snowballs in winter and stones in summer. Our doorbell was vandalized, the cement steps to the front walk smashed.

We are wakened at 4 a.m. by neighbors loudly dumping heavy trash in the alley. Adult footprints in the snow under our windows showed we'd had prowlers in the night.

They deliberately cut across our lawn, wearing a path bare. In desperation we put up a fence. It was torn down in less than a week.

We nearly stood on our heads to be friendly when we came here, but nothing helped. We are NOT of a minority race, but maybe we're of a minority age, as sometimes age prejudice is as vicious as race prejudice.

We've tried to reason out the cause and can only think that the former occupant of the house was mad that the owners sold it and "did him out of" a home to rent. Possibly he has spread rumors and started vandalism so that we will move and he can rent it again. I can't find out—no one speaks.

We lived long years in our former home without trouble, but here we offered friendship and got brickbats. What can we do?—HURT

DEAR HURT:

I can't believe a whole neighborhood would be vicious, so I'm inclined to agree this may be the work of one person who wants you out of the house. Ask police protection.

And ask a few neighbors in for tea. Even though they've heard bad things about you, they will probably come out of curiosity. Then perhaps you can get to the bottom of all this discrimination.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

You get so many letters from miserable husbands and wives I thought you might like to hear from a couple who has never had an unhappy married moment.

When my husband and I got married we were not in love, in the "Hollywood" way. We were, therefore, sane enough to realize that basic ideals and beliefs must be compatible to make for happiness.

We are now deeply in love, and our love grows every year. We have a sunny, smiling daughter, perhaps because she has never known an atmosphere other than one of laughter and affection.

We thank God every day for our blessings, and only wish the couples who complain to you so much had not been blinded by so-called "romance," or would realize that nothing in the world is worth hurting the person you love.

Moral: Marry with open eyes and keep them half-shut afterwards.—R.M.

DEAR R.M.:

So nice to meet you! Please write again. Letters like yours recharge a columnist's batteries.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've walked my legs off trying to get a job. They always ask, "Are you experienced?" How do you get experienced if no one will hire you? Where can I go?—HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR HSG:

Try the Youth Opportunity Center at your State Employment Service.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help You. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

from burning off, Lydia reported.

"Money is always a big problem," said Baca, "and this year they need $35,000 to accomplish their mission. That's quite a load on their shoulders, along with all the work they do."

Private contributions are certainly needed, Baca said, and can be sent to Box 3008, Berkeley. "Needless to say, the kids will feel good about help; their appreciation will be as great as their confidence and courage in the humanitarian work they're doing each summer in Mexico.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WILL BURTON

Ann French Weds Robert W. Burton

Ann French of Kentfield became the bride of Robert Will Burton of San Francisco in a ceremony on Aug. 4 in San Francisco's Notre Dames des Victoires Church in San Francisco.

Preceding the bride to the altar in bright yellow floor-length gowns were her sister, Cindy French of Kentfield, as maid of honor and bridesmaids, Shelly French of Kentfield, also the bride's sister, Peggy Hill, Ruth Brown and Mrs. Roger Machenzie.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bohemian Club in San Francisco.

The bride, who is also the sister of Mrs. Thomas Cole and Richard L. French Jr., was graduated from Redwood High School and the University of California. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Randall Burton of San Francisco, was graduated from St. Ignatius High School and the University of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to the Grand Tetons, the couple will reside in Fallbrook, Calif.

Susan Hitchcock Becomes A Bride

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Blake Hitchcock of San Mateo. Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crobarger of Phoenix, Ariz.

Susan is a graduate of the University of Oregon and has been teaching the past two years in Terra Linda.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Arizona State University.

NATHAN SCHWARTZ
Pianist at Festival

Marin Piano Teacher In Music Fete

Pianist Nathan Schwartz, a teacher at the Dominican College in San Rafael, will appear at the Cabrillo Music Festival at Aptos Aug. 19 through 21 and Aug. 26 through 28.

He will appear with cellist Bonnie Hampton in Beethoven's "Cello Sonata in D major," and will also play with the Francesco Chamber Trio.

Schwartz, pianist for the Casals master classes at Zermatt, Switzerland, is a member of the University of California, Berkeley, extension division faculty.

Meat substitutes containing good quality protein and a very low fat content are technically feasible but very expensive to produce.

Guns so large they had to be transported and fired from railroad cars were first used in World War I.

New Principal Hired For Greenbrae School

Kentfield School District has hired Roy L. Smith, principal of a Los Angeles school, to be principal at Greenbrae School this year for a salary of $14,000, Supt. Howard C. Harmon announced today. Smith, 39, has been a principal for five years in Los Angeles.

Harmon said the school offered the job to Smith during a closed session last week and that he accepted Monday.

Thirty-Four Strep Cases Are Reported

Thirty four cases of streptococcus infection were reported in Marin County last week according to figures issued by the county health officer, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Also reported during the week were five cases of gonorrhea, two of infectious hepatitis and one of salmonella.

Young Harvard Graduate Discovers A New Comet

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A young Harvard graduate peered through a 24-inch telescope Sunday night and found "a star out of place."

The next night, photographs confirmed that Stephen Kilston had discovered a comet, and it will bear his name.

The discovery was announced yesterday by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, an international clearing house for celestial activity.

A spokesman said Kilston spotted his comet while watching the skies at the Lick Observatory in San Jose, Calif. He is a June graduate from Harvard.

The subsequent photographs showed that the comet had moved with relation to the fixed stars and by custom among astronomers, it was christened comet Kilston.

The Smithsonian said about three or four comets are discovered each year, often by young scientists and amateurs whose names become text book terms.

Theft of a battery, radiator and headlight from a car parked behind Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Stella Malugani. The parts were taken sometime during the past month, she said.

Rail Service Cut Plans Protested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California and Nevada Public Utilities commissions are protesting plans by the Western Pacific Railroad to discontinue its passenger train between San Francisco and Salt Lake City.

Western Pacific had filed notice with the Interstate Commerce Commission that California Zephyr service will stop Sept. 15.

The California PUC announced yesterday it has written a protest letter to the commerce commission indicating there is "substantial public need" for the train. Nevada's PUC has also protested the train's discontinuance.

GO FLY A KITE!

On Friday and Saturday, August 12 and 13, Mr. David Jue will demonstrate kite-making. Mr. Jue, whose kites have delighted U.S. Presidents' children and grandchildren, will give away some of these ornate Chinese kites to less famous, but equally delighted, local youngsters. These intriguing demonstrations will take place between 1 and 5 P.M., near Safeway Market.

New product at HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO, that will be of interest to a number of our readers. This Sugarless Candy that looks and tastes for all the world like old fashioned hard candy. We did some sleuthing for you and found that the sweetening agent in Sugarless Candy is called Sorbitol. It is a natural sweet found in apples, berries, pears, etc. We even waded through an article in a professional pharmaceutical publication which describes this sweetener and states that it can be used safely by diabetics. (Now how's that for in-depth reporting?) HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO is truly an old fashioned country store right here in Marin . . . and not the least of their appeal is old fashioned, good quality.

Still available at VILLAGE LIQUORS, the special price on a prestige label champagne. This is Laurent Perrier Special Cuvee, imported by Munson G. Shaw Co. of New York. For a limited time only, VILLAGE LIQUORS offers this fine champagne at four-ninety a bottle and fifty-two, ninety-two a case.

If your family translates "casserole" into "mom cleaned out the refrigerator," then you should meet master chef Louis Reimers at L'ENTREE. Louis' casserole menu is delicious and varied enough to please any taste or wallet. You can take home a complete dinner of casserole, salad and Specially Buttered Bread . . . or choose the entree-only casserole and add your own flourishes. These L'ENTREE casseroles freeze beautifully in their own container, to provide elegant last-minute dinners for unexpected guests.

Worthwhile "special" now at VILLAGE JEWELERS. You can have baby shoes (or most any memento) bronze, silver or gold plated at 25% off the regular price. Used as bookends, ashtrays, paper weights . . . this can make a charming gift. With a bit of imagination on your part, VILLAGE JEWELERS will preserve in metal, any number of items that can be highly personal gifts . . . both sentimental and funny.

Equal time dept. . . . MUTTS OF MARIN now offers a batty bumper sticker that proclaims, "Neurotic Cat Owner." Available in a number of seen-a-mile-away colors, this zany item sports a drawing of a kookie kitty.

Noticed a most unusual and attractive item at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP. This is a clear glass brandy snifter, laced round-about with gold or silver threads. Different colored "jewels" set in the threads to give a shimmer of color when a votive candle burns in the brandy snifter. Available in two sizes at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP, this is a versatile decorative piece . . . to say nothing of being a most elegant vessel for brandy.

Polly, put the kettle on . . . the teakettle from HAPPY HOUSE, that is, and we'll all applaud your good taste in kitchenware. These HAPPY HOUSE kettles are some of the prettiest we've seen. Some are enamel on steel, in solid colors or attractive designs (including the wonderful Georges Briard designs). Others are copper or a copper and brass combination and are tin lined. Many shapes and sizes to choose from, in a wide range of prices. See the new Italian import at HAPPY HOUSE called Letizia . . . a two-cup wonder for both tea and coffee.

Pick a Pendleton, any Pendleton, at CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR, and find any number of coordinated separates to mix and match. CARLTON'S has a marvelous collection of these wonderful Pendleton wools . . . suits, slacks, jackets, skirts, sweaters, coats, jumpers and bermudas . . . in an almost endless choice of combinations. Some lovely, muted heather tones from Pendleton this year, as well as their famous tartans. We are intrigued by the "do-nut" skirt . . . a seamless, twirl of plaid . . . the design exclusive with Pendleton and found at CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR.

KUBLAI KHAN, the Village's newest restaurant, is becoming a favorite with Marinites. The menu here includes Polynesian, Chinese and American dishes . . . (with fresh fruit salads to delight both the eye and the appetite). KUBLAI KHAN is open seven days a week from noon to ten, and can accommodate up to seventy-five people for banquets. Attractive decor here, as well as delicious food.

New menu at THE HICK'RY PIT, but the same great food. This new menu has prompted us to remind you of the variety available at this family restaurant. In case you're not in the mood for the wonderful barbecued ribs, you have a choice of steaks, chicken, seafood, sandwiches, wiches, salads, breakfast fare and fountain treats. Honest-to-goodness, homemade pastry at THE HICK'RY PIT, too.

New from Hallmark at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP . . . solid color paper party goods in unusual shades. These are carefully planned to mix with the Hallmark prints.

Good looking fall fashions arriving at EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP now. As an example, a wool knit walking suit in gold, heather-toned avocado, charcoal, bright blue and a marvelous, clear red. The longish jacket is double breasted with rows of antique-looking metal buttons. EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP has a number of separates to mix and match with this suit . . . an over-blouse with befringed sleeves and hem, and also capris. You could have quite an impressive wardrobe with these combinations, and well within a realistic price range.

Listed here, the lucky winners of gifts certificates for merchandise from INTERNATIONALE, LTD. at their first annual drawing. First prize ($150.00), Mrs. Simon Anixter, Kentfield . . . second prize ($75.00), Roy Crocker, Mill Valley . . . third prize ($25.00), Mrs. John Riedel, Mill Valley. More news from INTERNATIONALE, LTD. . . . for a limited time only, this elegant shop offers an outstanding selection of larger diamond solitaires and dinner rings. These rings, in sizes up to five carats, are quite unbelievably beautiful and offered now at unbelievable prices.

Please, don't take our word for it, that ALBERTA OF MARIN'S plastic flowers are exquisite. Seeing is believing and we know you will be impressed. ALBERTA is a color expert . . . so bring in your swatches to be matched or complemented by these very fine plastic blossoms.

A fine choice of paperbacks for lazy summer reading at CAPRICORN BOOKS. There is the last Ian Fleming tale, "The Man With The Golden Gun" . . . the thought provoking, "Pass The Poverty Please" by Patty Newman and Joyce Wenger . . . "The Rabbi" by Noah Gordon . . . and the incredible "A Gift of Prophecy" by Jeane Dixon. Just a few examples of the wide range of reading found at CAPRICORN BOOKS.

Lots of luncheon action at BERNSTEIN'S DELICATESSEN the other day. Mothers with small children, businessmen, merchants, teenagers and Village shoppers seemed to find this the perfect spot for informal eating . . . and the food, of course, is superb. BERNSTEIN'S stuffed cabbage is gaining quite a reputation and is reported to be even better than that of a famed city delicatessen. Whether eaten there or taken home, BERNSTEIN'S food is a real family favorite. Be sure to phone ahead to take out their barbecued chickens or you might be disappointed. (Friendly touch at BERNSTEIN'S . . . endless, on-the-house coffee refills.)

Can it! . . . at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL. Whatever your gift item may be, if it fits in either of two size cans, it is cannable. This is the most original form of gift wrapping we've come across. These cans at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL are not only clever, but very practical for mailing overseas. There are a number of decorative labels to choose from . . . and, of course, the choice of what you can is endless. As a few suggestions, let IMPORTS INTERNATIONA) can home-made cookies or hand-knit socks . . . a wispy negligee or a diamond ring . . . or . . . well, you get the idea. Turn your imagination loose, and then can it.

Red Germans Send 'Spies' To Prison

BERLIN (UPI) —An East German court today sentenced three alleged Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) spies to terms ranging from six years to life.

The three Germans were found guilty by the East German Supreme Court of trying to help refuges escape by commandeering aircraft and digging tunnels.

Officials here discounted the East German charge the men worked for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. They considered the trial a propaganda show to prepare for the fifth anniversary Saturday of the building of the Berlin Wall.

The court said the trial showed the United States and West Germany are misusing the West Berlin outpost for espionage and subversive activity against the German Democratic Republic.

Judge Walter Ziegler sentenced Guenter Laudahn, 36-year-old electrical engineer, to life, Hans Juergen Hanke, 22, to 10 years imprisonment, and Werner Baecker, 29-year-old insurance agent, to six years.

They were convicted of plotting to try to get an East German air force pilot to defect to the West with a Soviet - built MIG-21 fighter aircraft.

They also were convicted of an unsuccessful plan to commandeer an East German commercial airliner and land it in West Berlin.

Russ Claim Foreigners Smuggling Propaganda

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet government accused foreign diplomats, businessmen and tourists today of smuggling money, valuables, propaganda and gold into the Soviet Union.

The government newspaper Izvestia said that, in the first six months of 1966 alone, more than 60 foreign smugglers had been caught "red handed."

Foreigners also were accused of extensive black market dealings and arranging "orgies" in hotel rooms.

Among the accused were:

An American book dealer named Leroy Volens of Chicago.

A West German businessman, Edgar Wenzel, who, it was hinted, was also a spy.

Izvestia accused the unnamed Israeli diplomats of smuggling "Zionist propaganda booklets" into the Soviet Union and trying to distribute them at an agricultural exhibition in Moscow and in Leningrad, Kiev and Odessa.

Beatles Still Dare To Visit United States

LONDON (UPI) — The Beatles announced today they will fly to the United States tomorrow as planned, and enter by way of Boston —despite the tea party and all that.

A Beatles' spokesman said they will fly from London airport at 10:45 a.m. and arrive shortly after noon EDT in Boston where an earlier party of Americans registered their disapproval of another group of Britons by destroying their shipment of tea.

The Beatles will change planes in Boston to fly on to Chicago to begin their latest American tour. Airline officials said the plane they take from Boston to Chicago may depend on how flights are affected at the time by the U.S. airline strike.

The announcement came as stocks in the Beatles' music company slid on the market in the wake of attacks abroad on John Lennon's alleged remarks on Christianity.

Mill Valley Garbage War Truce Hinted

Tamalpais Valley's Great Garbage War may be approaching an armistice.

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night learned that Mill Valley Refuse Co. has called for some financial arrangement to end the company's service to the district before Sept. 30, the scheduled termination date.

The company filed a $1 million damage suit against the district July 28, after the district and the garbage collection service had squabbled over the district's decision to sign a contract for garbage service with Henry's Service of Stinson Beach. That contract takes effect Sept. 1.

Last night, directors agreed to review the Mill Valley company's suggestion if it were submitted in writing.

They also commended district inspector Leonard Mitchell "for his efforts in the garbage emergency" and appointed directors Ralph P. Kellogg and Arthur L. Crebassa to recommend a salary hike for him.

Directors also set a $26 sewer service charge for fiscal year 1967, down $3 from the rate for fiscal 1966. The charge is levied against all homeowners connected to the district sewage system.

A 15 cent district operating tax was set previously by the board, down six cents from the 1966 rate.

Youth Again Found Guilty Of Murders

FAIRFIELD (AP) — Richard Price, 22, was found guilty today of two murder charges in the slayings of a highway patrolman and a sheriff's deputy in 1963 after a retrial without jury. Solano County Superior Court Judge Bertram Janes ruled that Price was guilty of first degree murder of highway patrolman Charles Soresnon and second degree murder of Solano County sheriff's investigator Hale Humphrey.

Price also was found guilty of grand auto theft of a Highway Patrol car.

Judge Janes set Aug. 12 for a sanity hearing and sentencing

Price's retrial was ordered by the state Supreme Court after the Dorado decision.

The Dorado decision said a suspect must be informed of his right to remain silent, his right to an attorney and the fact that anything he says may be used against him in court.

Price's attorney, William Weissich, of San Rafael, contended in his appeal that Price should have been found guilty of manslaughter rather than first degree murder.

Auto Garage Use Permit Is Granted

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night recommended that a use permit be granted to Gerald C. Kott for an auto repair garage at 78 East Blithedale Avenue.

Commissioners surrounded the permit wtih strict conditions in an attempt to guarantee that the garage will be neither a nuisance to the neighborhood nor an eyesore. Several neighbors had protested.

Besides landscaping, sign and parking requirements, commissioners added an unusual requirement that Kott post a bond to cover the cost of the requirements in case he fails to comply with them, obliging the city to make them.

Kott reportedly agreed to the conditions, including the bond. The amount is to be determined by planning director Harvey Bragdon and City Atty. Leland H. Jordan before the city council hears the permit today.

A request by Hubertus S. Dallwitz to develop a sub-standard lot at 190 Monte Vista Avenue was denied. Commissioners granted a sideyard variance to Leo Smedt to build a house at 20 Lower Drive.

State Colleges Hear Faculty Complaints

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Officials of the California State College system met today with representatives of five faculty groups to hear grievances. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke reported "dramatic progress" in faculty benefits.

The hearing was called in the wake of prolonged complaints about salaries and working conditions. Many professors claim they are not given a large enough role in policy making for the 18-campus system.

The one-day hearing was called by the trustees' committee on Faculty and Staff Affairs. Dumke in a prepared report listed what he said were more than two dozen benefits affecting the 8,000 professors.

These included, he said, a 27.7 per cent salary increase since 1961. Salaries, he said, have showed marked improvement when compared with those of other institutions—and the gap between pay of state college and University of California professors has been materially reduced.

Dumke said there has been a 144 per cent increase in the sabattical leave program since 1961; gains in the number of library books per student; additional funds for faculty travel for improvement; improved faculty office conditions and awards for outstanding teaching.

Meeting Changed

The regular meeting of Sausalito library trustees has been changed from Monday to tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the library.

Pleads Guilty To Second Sex Offense

A Tamalpais Valley man pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of molesting a child, considered a felony because he had a prior conviction.

Eric Conrad Franzen, 25, of 611 Laguna Road made two court appearances during the day.

He entered his plea during the first appearance, in Municipal Court. Judge Peter Allen Smith dismissed three additional counts of the same charge, ordered Franzen to county jail as of Friday without bail and sent him to superior court.

There, Judge Joseph G. Wilson revoked his probation and appointed two psychiatrists to determine if Franzen is a sexual psychopath. He suspended further court proceedings pending a review of their reports, scheduled to be given to him by Aug. 23.

Franzen was charged with lewd and lascivious behavior involving three teen-age boys in May and June. In 1964, after conviction for a similar offense, he was sent to Atascadero State Hospital for treatment. He was returned to Marin County Superior Court and placed on five years probation last Aug. 18.

Special Kentfield School Meeting Set

Kentfield School District board will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in Wofe Grade School to pay some bills, Supt. Howard C. Harmon announced today.

He said the bills had not come in when the board met last week. The next regular meeting of the board is not until Sept. 12.

PINAFORE GIRLS are part of a new concept in leisure which has originated in California.

PINAFORE GIRLS is a new service in which charming cocktail waitresses are provided for parties, meetings and receptions. They wear graceful, green satin costumes with white satin ruffles. All of the girls were selected for their sociability, figure and poise. They do not dance at parties.

Trial Date Set On Escape Tries

Jury trial for Donald Wayne McDowell, Odell C. Haston, and Lonnie E. Culver, San Quentin Prison inmates charged with being involved in an escape try May 21, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for Aug. 22.

McDowell and Haston, both 25, were indicted for attempting to escape, and Culver was indicted for attempting to help them.

Prison guards said they saw McDowell and Haston as the inmates tried to conceal themselves in refuse on a prison garbage truck on May 21. Culver allegedly helped them into the truck.

Teacher Found Shot In Marin

Charles Napoli, 58, apparently shot himself in the chest with a .33-caliber deer rifle and died instantly, Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley reported today.

Two employees of the Marin Municipal Water District found the body about 2:45 p.m. yesterday behind the wheel of his car on the Tocaloma bridge platform road near Nicasio Dam.

Napoli, who was divorced and had received treatment 18 months ago for a nervous breakdown, left no note, said Bradley.

Born in Italy, he came to California 28 years ago and was a former rancher in Cazadero, Sonoma County. For 15 years he was a music teacher and taught accordian for Sherman Clay in San Francisco.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Wetterstrand of Santa Rosa and two brothers, Anthony Napoli of Rohnert Park and Carmaelo Napoli of Guerneville.

Report On Flood Control Plan Slated

A report on a public review of preliminary plans for the Corte Madera Flood Control project will be given by town engineer Philip B. Lygren at tomorrow's meeting of Ross Town Council scheduled for 8 p.m. in the town hall.

Also on the agenda is a television franchise agreement and the formal adoption of the fiscal 1967 budget and fixing of the tax rate approved at the July 27 special meeting.

Board Member Suffers Bruises, Cuts In Accident

Adele J. Alpers, 71, a member of the County Board of Education, was injured when her car was involved in a glancing head-on collision on San Pedro Road at Porto Bello Drive near San Rafael at 6:05 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Alpers of 139 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, was treated in Marin General Hospital for multiple cuts and bruises.

The driver of the other car, Marvyn S. Dietz, 30, of 85 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, was treated for a cut nose and admitted for observation. He is in good condition today in Marin.

Officer Angelo J. Corvino of the California Highway Patrol reported that Dietz was driving east when his car crossed the centerline and struck the left front of Mrs. Alpers' car. Both cars were moderately damaged.

Dog Owner Receives Warning Of Council

The basic gentleness, or viciousness, of a German rottweiler dog named Baron, was the first topic of debate before the San Anselmo City Council last night.

According to Carolyn Ingrassia, his teen-aged master at 70 Karl Avenue, Baron is big and black and looks mean to some people. When he is on the other side of the fence, she said, they tease him because "They just don't understand he's a kind dog."

On the other side of the argument was Mrs. Lee D. Gustafson of 29 Park Drive, whose husband, Arthur, suffered a four inch slash in the buttocks Sunday at the teeth of Baron.

She said the Marin County Health Department informed her that Baron has seriously bitten five people since 1964. Mrs. Joseph Ingrassia, Carolyn's mother, said he has bitten only three people.

The council decided that two victims more or less made little difference, and ordered the dog kept behind the fence on a leash. Councilmen also warned that criminal action could follow the next time Baron takes a nip of someone.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Changed the zoning of property at 91 Spring Grove Avenue from apartment residential to single family residential. Half the property was zoned for apartments.

2. Passed a resolution announcing its intention to upgrade the retirement program for police and firemen at no cost to the city. Police officers and firemen first have to vote for the program, which would allow retirement at half pay at age 55 with 20 years service.

3. Authorized City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt to sell surplus equipment at the corporation yard. Flautt said he will sell some of this equipment, a back hoe and a truck without a motor, to a junk yard for $375.

4. Appointed Dennis T. Moore of 147 Allyn Avenue to the planning commission to replace Edward L. Nordmann, whose term has expired.

5. Authorized Flautt to hire an engineering firm to prepare construction drawings for the $12,000 first phase work on Parking Lot A, located at the hub.

San Pablo Bay To Become Navy Target Range

Warning to boating enthusiasts: Don't plan on sailing far in San Pablo Bay tomorrow.

As far the the Navy is concerned, the bay will become the Mekong Delta, with Navy units staging gunnery practice in a 25 square mile area off the Petaluma Creek shallows from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A Mare Island Navy unit, scheduled to leave for Viet Nam Friday, will be doing most of the firing in the shallows which are reputed to resemble the Vietnamese territory.

The Navy's use of the bay for gunnery exercises has drawn protests from sportsmen and conservation groups.

Impressionist Dixon Paintings On Display

A one-man show of impressionist oils painted by Leola Dixon will be on display throughout August at the Redwood National Bank in San Rafael, Byron W. Leydecker, bank president, announced today.

Mrs. Dixon, who holds a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of California at Berkeley, has had similar one-man shows at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco, the Santa Barbara Museum of Art, and the Gallery of Fine Arts in Taxco, Mexico.

SHOPLIFTERS RESORTING TO OLD FASHIONS

Bustles appeared in fashion again in San Rafael yesterday and set police checking into what was behind it all.

A woman walked into Frank More's store in the Northgate Shopping Center and began discussing prices with two friends. Then she walked out with the short, jerky steps characteristic of the Victorian era when bustles were all the vogue.

Shop assistants took a closer look and found the retreating bulge under an outside coat had a sales tag on it. Police were called but by that time the woman, two accomplices and a suit worth $66 had disappeared in a car.

Doctors Try Heart Pump On Woman

HOUSTON (UPI) —Doctors said today a revolutionary artificial heart device implanted in a 37-year-old Mexican woman was doing the job it was intended to do: giving the woman's diseased heart a chance to heal.

The device, inserted Monday by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, was successfully pumping blood through the body of Mrs. Esperanza Del Valle Vasquez. A hospital bulletin said the pump had already permitted normal healing process.

Mrs. Del Valle Vasquez, the third coronary patient here to receive the device, had a heart ailment involving a damaged mitral valve. A hospital spokesman said she was ill for many years, suffering from progressive heart failure caused by rheumatic fever.

"The pump is functioning well and is assuming a decreasing amount of the heart pumping load," the hospital said. "It is now doing about 40 per cent of the work."

Once again, the heart pump, technically known as a "left ventricular bypass," was taking over enough of the heart's job to let the heart heal.

The hospital never disclosed exactly what percentage of the pumping the heart pump had assumed, but it was known to be capable of absorbing up to 80 per cent of the work of the patient's own heart.

Final Rabies Clinic Due Tomorrow

The last in a series of rabies vaccination clinics for dogs is set for tomorrow from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Corporation Yard, Sycamore and Camino Alto streets.

The clinics, operated by the Marin County Department of Public Health in cooperation with the Marin Veterinary Medical Assn., provide rabies shots at $2 per dog.

State law requires that all dogs in Marin County over four months old must be vaccinated against rabies and licensed. Deadline for obtaining a 1966-67 dog license is Aug. 31.

So far this year, 2,700 dogs have received the shots at the clinics, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County health officer, exceeding last year's total of 2,423.

Any dog which has been vaccinated with chick embryo vaccine (also called modified live virus) since Jan. 1, 1965, will not need to be revaccinated this year. The two-year vaccine is also being used in the public clinics, said Dr. Albrecht.

Services Board Names Member

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District last night named Richard Drosendahl of 617 Las Collindas Road to the board, replacing Web Beckstead who resigned several weeks ago.

Beckstead, an engineer with the State Division of Highways, was transferred from San Francisco to the Sacramento office. Drosendahl, also an engineer with the State Division of Highways, has served for several years as public works director for the district.

He will continue in that post as well as serve as director, according to Terra Linda Fire Chief George Walser. Walser served as secretary last night for vacationing Cleo Murray.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1966 — 21

CLOSING TIME — Eric Hodgman locked up his Tiburon pub, the Prince Charles Inn, today when he learned the State Board of Equalization had slapped a closing order on him for failure to pay sales taxes. Undaunted, he said would pay up this afternoon and open again tonight.

San Anselmo Council Gets Advice On Image

Four San Anselmo men who spend their working hours making and protecting images handed the city council some professional but free advice last night.

The public relations counselors, all members of the recently formed "San Anselmo Council of Consultants," began their memorandum on a diplomatic note:

"First of all, let us say that, to us, San Anselmo is a very pleasant city in which to live . . . sadily, though, too few people know about the good things in San Anselmo . . . In a way, San Anselmo is a hidden city. People drive through, but they don't see the city."

First, they said, the council should consider adopting the name to "The Village of San Anselmo."

"We do not want to be thought of as a big, bustling, fast growing city. We would rather think of ourselves as a settled community with roots in the past.

"They don't know us, except as the Hub City, which is a meaningless designation today. It tells you nothing about San Anselmo except that there is a dangerous and aggravating intersection there. This is no image to have."

They also called for a standard design for all official signs and letterheads.

Other ideas included:

Monthly "Civic Service Awards" to residents who have helped bring credit to their home town.

Voluntary auto safety checks before holidays.

Collection boxes for contributions to the San Anselmo Beautification program.

The council commended the men—Walter Busse, Rene A. Henry Jr., John Johnson and Laurence McDermott—and voted to form a committee with representatives from the counseling group, the chamber of commerce and each service club, to study the recommendations.

Slain Union Aide Branded A Red

Jury selection continued today in the trial of Richard Rock of Mill Valley and three other men for the murder of Painters Union leader Dow Wilson, who was described yesterday as "an avowed communist" by a defense attorney.

On trial in San Francisco before Judge Norman Elkington are Rock, owner of a San Francisco bar, Carl M. Black, an Oakland accountant, and Norman Call and Max Ward, Sacramento painting contractors. Black and Rock are brothers-in-law.

Attorney Melvin Belli, representing Ward, called Wilson, leader of the Painters Union local in San Francisco, "an avowed communist" and said he might try to prove persons other than the defendants had a reason to "get" him. Judge Elkington told prospective jurors to ignore Belli's comments.

After two days of jury selection, seven men and five women had been tentatively seated. Agreement on jurors had not been reached today, however. Three prospective jurors were dismissed yesterday when they said they could not consider death as a possible penalty if the defendants were convicted, and four more were excused because they would be excessively inconvenienced by a long trial.

Five were sent home on preemptory challenges yesterday, three by the defense and two by the prosecution.

Wilson was killed April 5 when he walked out of a union meeting in San Francisco. Police said he was ambushed from a parked car, and the state contends that the four men plotted the death because he had been critical of the way a union welfare fund was handled. Black was auditor of the fund and Ward and Call were employer trustees of the fund.

Yesterday, Belli said Wilson was a "militant labor leader with many friends and many enemies," and George T. Davis, Black's attorney, said Wilson was "the kind of man who made strong friends and bitter enemies."

Council Delays Novato Nuisance Order Action

The proposed nuisance ordinance for the City of Novato failed to get off the ground last night.

The ordinance was proposed to cover multitude of nuisances such as blocking passage in any public place, dumping trash or rubbish on public or private property or dumping dirt in the streets.

City Atty. Clark Palmer Jr., however, persuaded the city council to put off its hearing. He said he is preparing two other ordinances to cover the same problems.

"Some of the offenses in this ordinance, such as encroachments, have been covered in other ordinances and we want to make one ordinance covering sub-standard structures," Palmer said.

The Novato City Council also:

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Ordered boarding up of two old houses on the city's Pioneer Memorial Park Property, and asked the fire department to burn them as soon as weather permits.
2. Accepted the quarterly report from the Novato Chamber of Commerce and approved payment of $2,000 to the chamber.
3. Accepted as complete the irrigation project on Highway 101 islands. Center Road Project 3, and St. Francis Heights Units 3 and 4.
4. Approved wooden electrical pole in front of the Scottsdale Development.
5. Passed ordinance annexing 33 acres off Simmons Lane by a 3-0 vote, with Mayor J. Womack abstaining.
two areas two acres at the corner of Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda Del Prado from planned residential to highway commercial for Hector Rubini, and the 20-lot Castlewood Subdivision, from Agriculture to single family residential.
7. Continued an appeal from Gulf Oil Co. for an illuminated sign giving prices, until the planning commission studies service stations and signs.
8. Accepted as completed the seventh unit of the San Marin housing subdivision of 55 houses and reduced the completion bond to $29,350.
9. Designated 71 feet of Center Road to Lu Sutton School a no parking area, because curbs and gutters have not been installed.
10. Authorized City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to continue discussions of uniform job descriptions and qualifications leading toward uniform pay for police officers as requested by the Marin County Police Officers Assn.
11. Authorized Baget to work with Ralph McGrath to find a place to display Indian artifacts dug up in Novato.
12. Accepted a gift of two filing cabinets from the Pacific National Life Insurance Co.
13. Set 8 p.m., Aug. 30 for a hearing on a proposed community antennae television ordinance.
14. Paid July warrants for $147,041 and salaries for $56,132.
15. Adjourned to 8 p.m., Tuesday to hold the final public hearing and pass the budget for fiscal 1967.

Parking Ban Study Asked By Planners

Larkspur Planning Commission last night asked the city staff to study the possibility of banning parking on both lower and upper Via Casitas on the theory that cars parked on the streets cause congestion and get in the way of emergency vehicles.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst reported that the commission request came after it Granted, by a four to one vote, John Moran's request that he be required to have 19 instead of 24 off-street parking spaces for a 12-unit apartment building at 20 lower Via Casitas.

Larkspur Planning Commission also:

1. Approved, in principle, a policy that would require the commission, when debating lot splits on hill sides, to consider accessibility to police and fire vehicles and the ability of streets to bear the traffic.
2. Asked that the staff prepare an ordinance amendment which would require a building permit for fences.

Novato Civic Center Site To Be Discussed

The location and probable land costs for a civic center for Novato will be discussed at a special meeting between representatives of the city and the Novato Unified School District at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the office of City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

The city has several sites under consideration for such a civic center. The school district wants to get land so that it can plan on a new administration building, probably on the same site.

Marin Soldier In San Diego, Not Viet Nam

Marine Pfc. Tinsley C. Stetson of Mill Valley was reported incorrectly to be aboard the Carrier Kearsarge off Viet Nam in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

His mother, Mrs Harold J. Stetson of 127 Montford Avenue, said today that he had been evacuated by air from the carrier in March because of a back injury and was taken to San Diego Naval Hospital in Balboa. He is recuperating there following removal of three and a half disks from his spine.

The former Tamalpais High School swimming star is expected to receive a disability discharge soon, Mrs. Stetson said.

A 1964 graduate of Tam, he entered the Marines in February, 1965. He injured his back lifting heavy cargo two days after the submarine carrier left Long Beach.

Controversial Inn Briefly Opens Doors

Eric Hodgman opened his Prince Charlie Inn in Tiburon last night unaware that the state Board of Equalizatin had ordered it closed temporarily for his failure to pay sales taxes for three months.

"I opened for a short time until I read in the paper that the board had ordered the closing," said the bearded proprietor of the trouble-beset pub, "then I closed down."

He planned to go to the board this afternoon to pay the self-assessed sales taxes, and open up again tonight.

Ernest D. Stewart, senior tax representative of the Board of Equalization, said today that Hodgman was notified by mail that his permit to do business was revoked. Hodgman said he hadn't received the notification when he opened last night.

His dispute with the board is the latest in a long series of hassles over the controversial pub, which he opened 18 months ago.

He faces an Alcoholic Beverage Control hearing Monday on revocation of his license to sell beer and wine. The Tiburon City Council Monday night filed an accusation with the ABC naming his bar as "a disorderly house" which will require another ABC hearing within 20 days.

"I wanted to bring love here," Hodgman said today. Of his legal troubles he said: "It's been the story of my life regarding Tiburon."

Marin City Ridge Land Payment In

A pleased county housing authority last night heard its director, Donald O. Stutsman, report that California Development Co. had paid $140,000 on Friday to the authority and redevelopment agency for 67 acres on the Marin City Ridge.

The payment was the first of three annual payments, to total $419,000 for 165 acres on the ridge, Stutsman explained.

In closed session, authority directors heard their attorney, Howard K. Morehouse, discuss condemnation action for acquisition of a two-acre parcel in Santa Venetia for 36 low-cost housing units for the elderly. This is not a legal purpose for a secret meeting.

In a report to the redevelopment agency, Stutsman noted that construction began July 26 on a gas station at Drake Avenue and Donahue Street.

County Aide Takes Job In Santa Rosa

Joe Harold Henderson, assistant director of public works of Marin County, has resigned to become assistant city manager of Santa Rosa.

Henderson, whose selection to fill the $1,100 a month job was announced by Santa Rosa city manager George Minturn, has held the Marin position since September, 1964.

He will fill the post vacated in April by Kent Bathurst, who is now city manager of Larkspur.

Henderson, married with two children, lives at 1 Adams Court, Novato. He will assume his new duties in Santa Rosa Sept. 12.

As assistant director of public works in Marin, he drew $1,008 a month, and was responsible for the administrative operations of the department, which included work with the budget, recruiting and supervision.

Henderson was chosen for the Santa Rosa job from 69 applicants. He has a bachelor's degree in administration from Sacramento State College. He is a fourth year student in the evening program at Lincoln University Law School in San Francisco.

He Writes Suicide Note; Found Dead

The body of a 63-year-old San Francisco brush salesman was found in a San Rafael motel room today after police learned he had sent a letter saying he planned to kill himself.

Officers went to the Monte Mar Motel, 835 Francisco Boulevard, about noon and discovered the body of F. H. Whalen hanging from a shower rod by an electric cord.

Police said Whalen wrote to San Rafael auto dealer Doug Dicker, from whom he leased a car. After reading the letter, Dicker called officers.

Asst. Marin County Coroner William C. Bradley theorized that he had been dead at least 24 hours.

Elderly Housing Support Voiced

Homestead Valley Improvement Club Directors reaffirmed their support last night for 30 units of low-cost housing for the elderly planned by the county housing authority on Linden Lane between Montford and Evergreen Avenues.

The plan has drawn the fire of neighbors of the proposed project.

A special meeting of the board of trustees "to discuss urgent financial and policy matters" was set for Aug. 29. President Bernard M. Weinstein refused to elaborate.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Your Partner May Be Similar To Cartoon Characters In Trap

In cartoons, but not in real life, a man sometimes paints himself into an exitless corner of a room.

Don't laugh too hard; you wouldn't do it yourself at the bridge table, but your partner does it all the time.

Opening lead — ♣ 6

Your partner is declarer at three notrump.

He wins the first trick in dummy with the queen of clubs (sighing with relief), gets to his hand with a heart and leads the six of diamonds toward dummy.

Since South cannot see through the backs of the cards, he plays the jack from dummy to force out the ace, wins the club return and leads the eight of diamonds to dummy's queen.

East discards a spade, and South sees that he is in trouble.

If South tries the spade finesse, it will lose. If he gets to his hand with a heart to lead the nine of diamonds, West will play low.

South can stay in his hand with the nine of diamonds or overtake with dummy's king, but he cannot run the rest of the suit.

This is a good time to laugh, if you happen to be in the mood. The opponents will join you.

MUST UNBLOCK

Since you are not a cartoon character you would unblock the diamonds. You begin by leading the nine of diamonds.

Dummy's jack loses to the ace, you win the club return and lead the eight to dummy's queen. East's spade discard tells you that West still has the 10-5 of diamonds.

You get to your hand with a heart to lead the carefully preserved six of diamonds. West plays low, and you overtake with dummy's seven.

Now you are in dummy and can continue with the king of diamonds and then the last diamond. You score game and rubber with four diamonds, two clubs, two hearts and one spade.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 8 5 3 2
♥ Q J 9 7 3
♦ A
♣ 10 5 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to bid a major suit if he can. You will raise two of either major to game. If partner bids two diamonds, showing no four-card (or longer) major suit, you will bid 2 NT and hope for the best.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 10, the 222nd day of 1966 with 143 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

Herbert Hoover, 31st President of the U.S. was born on this day in 1874.

On this day in history:

In 1776, a committee of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested the United States adopt "e pluribus unum" as the motto for its great seal.

In 1821, Missouri was admitted to the nation as the 24th state.

In 1943, President Franklin Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at Quebec for the sixth conference of World War II.

In 1965, a Titan missile site explosion killed 53 persons at Searcy, Ark.

A thought for the day—American novelist Dorothy Fisher said: "A mother is not a person to lean on, but a person to make leaning unnecessary."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Third Straight Loss In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today closed with its third straight daily loss. Trading was moderate.

Although stocks were irregularly lower from the start, a rally was based on hope that the union would accept arbitration in the airline strike but as trading continued various news items tended to dampen such hopes.

Gains by airlines were pared away, even erased in some cases and there were some losers.

The rest of the market showed some speculative flavor but it was buried under a general atmosphere of disappointment.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.4 million shares compared with 6.27 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The airlines were spured early in the session by news that negotiators for the union and the struck airlines had agreed to try to settle the suit by arbitration. Much of the gain faded when the union's chief spokesman said he doubted his members would agree to arbitration.

The rest of the market did not follow the cue of the airlines but remained lackluster from the start. As it looked like another losing day, bids got scarce and prices weakened.

Among the airlines, Eastern held a gain of about a point while Pan American sank nearly 2 and Northwest was fractionally lower.

FIRST LONGS STORE FOR MARIN

Computer-Bossed Dry Cleaning Plant Slated On Miracle Mile

A new type of franchised automated dry cleaning plant is due to make its appearance on the San Rafael Miracle Mile at 2224 Fourth Street, in the Stop and Go Market complex. It is called Jiffy 39 Minute Cleaners.

Apparently this will be the second one of its kind in the state. A pilot plant is now being built in Santa Ana. Franchising company here is the Garlen Co., 1970 Innes Avenue, San Francisco. T. C. Nizenkoff, vice president (he is a resident of Peacock Gap), says the plan will use computer equipment. No franchise for this store has been selected.

A SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT type of apparel store called Valerie Ann's has been opened at 371 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Owner Mrs. Joyce R. Gross, a Mill Valley resident says she is specializing in apparel "for teenagers and the young at heart." The store encourages teen-agers to make garments and bring them in to be sold on consignment. For those who need more experience, Mrs. Gross conducts a sewing school in the rear.

The store is open daily from 10 to 5 or 5:30 p.m.

THERE ARE NEW OWNERS at Central Pharmacy, 695 Bridgeway, Sausalito. Donald A. Neuberger and Harry V. Smith Jr., both Sausalito residents, have purchased from Theodore H. Borla, who will remain with them for a time before taking off on a trip.

Neuberger, a licensed pharmacist, has been at Central for the past three years. Previously he was at Poehlmann Pharmacy in San Rafael and before that in San Francisco. Smith has been in the investment business.

IDEAL RUBBER STAMP SERVICE is the name of a new part time project of William Alkire, caddy at the Meadow Club. He conducts this operation at his home, 309 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and offers one-day service.

JORDAN B. DELL'ERA of San Rafael, a vice president of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, has been appointed officer in charge of the bank's newly consolidated systemwide branch administration department. For the past year he has been in charge of the northern division's branch administration division. Dell'Era joined Crocker-Citizens' predecessor, First National Bank in San Rafael, in 1946.

Wells Fargo Bank has published one brochure entitled "Wells Fargo Country Factbook," giving Northern California business statistics by counties. It is available to business firms, libraries, educational institutions and research and financial firms. Make your request to any Wells Fargo branch and it will be passed along to the proper department.

Bank of America has also published a detailed 40-page booklet on California's economy, covering the entire state and giving a breakdown of its eight major geographic areas. Available by writing the bank's investment securities division at the 300 Montgomery Street office in San Francisco.

SAN RAFAEL building designing firm Hageman-Thomas-Eklund received an award of merit during the recent annual convention of the American Institute of Building in San Francisco. The award was given for the firm's redesigning of the West End Villa in San Rafael for new owners Adolph Motta and B. S. Bisson.

AN ALL-EXPENSE-paid tour of Japan has been awarded to Fred Wellen of Wellen's San Rafael Typewriter Co., San Rafael, by the Caltype Corp. of Los Angeles for his selling record for the company's midget adding machines. He will leave on the nine-day trip Aug. 26 from Los Angeles.

BANK OF MARIN will hold its first flower show in its new building at Fifth Avenue and B Street on Saturday, Aug. 27 from 1 to 9 p.m. Show colors are blue and gold and judges will present ribbons and cash prizes for outstanding arrangements in each division. Door prizes will be awarded. There will also be a display of paintings and works of art. Floral arrangements may be submitted by Marin residents over 16 years of age (materials need not be grown by the exhibitor). Address inquiries to Mrs. Russell Bjorn, 47 Curtis Avenue, San Rafael, flower show manager, or to the bank.

Dividend Declared

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of Kern County Land Co. have declared a quarterly dividend of 65 cents per share payable on Sept. 21 to shareowners of record at the clase of business on Aug. 15.

Runaway Industry Worrying Unions

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — An epidenmic of runaway plants that is costing thousands of jobs is deeply distrubing American trade unions.

Subsidized plant migration, as labor calls it, is not a new development, but in the last five years it has reached explosive proportions, with the end still not in sight.

The core of the issue is the swift expansion of state laws permitting communities to issue tax-free public bonds to finance plants for lease to industry.

Up to 1950, only three states had authorized this industrial bond financing, and sales to that point totaled only $7 million. In the next decade, a dozen more states acted.

The big eruption has come since 1960. Not only have 15 more states jumped on the bond bandwagon, but sales of such bonds have skyrocketed.

The Investment Bankers Assn. which admits its totals are well below the actual figure because precise details are hard to come by, estimates sales were $40 million in 1960, more than doubled to $85 million in 1962, and more than doubled again to $216 million in 1965.

In the first four months of 1966 alone, sales of tax-free industrial bonds reached a soaring $228 million.

A New York investment banking firm that underwrites a big share of these issues estimates sales actually totaled nearly $1 million last year alone.

The working man has a vital stake in all this high level finance. It can be boiled down to these two factors: automation, and right-to-work states.

In virtually every case, the new plant uses the latest machinery under the most modern conditions. That means automation. And automation means fewer jobs — for the workers whose plants have moved away, and even for areas into which industry moves. The new plants need smaller staffs.

Labor leaders denounce the the plant shifts as "runaways" and "deliberate acts of plant piracy" by communities luring industry. One source assailed the communities for "their cheap, nonunion labor, their low-benefit and thus low-cost welfare laws and their special tax-avoidance schemes."

Labor also charges fleeing companies tend to run out from under pensions, vacations and other accumulating benefits due to employees.

Although states in all parts of the country are trying to lure industry — Pennsylvania being one of the most successful — the AFL-CIO is particularly critcial of right-to-work states. It cites their low wages, held out as an inducement to new industry.

For example, the AFL-CIO says the nine Southeastern right-to-work states pay plant workers an average of $1.93 an hour. By comparison, this is $1.18 an hour less than Michigan's average, 83 cents under Illinois, 69 cents below Connecticut and 60 cents under Missouri.

The AFL-CIO charges: "No one has fully recorded the thousands of jobs lost, the millions in lost purchasing power, the distress to communities nor the personal tragedies resulting from plant piracy."

The New Jersey AFL-CIO complains bitterly that plant runaways from that state alone have cost more than 50,000 jobs in the last five years. Most other northern states have suffered similar losses.

The seeds of the problem were sown years ago when the federal government granted state and local governments the right to issue tax-exempt bonds for the single purpose of helping them reduce costs when borrowing to finance public facilities such as schools, hospitals and roads.

Because the U.S. government foregoes tax revenues, the bonds are "clearly a federal subsidy that, in effect, all American taxpayers underwrite," the AFL-CIO asserts.

It adds that when bonds are used to help profit-making corporations, the communities "are funneling the benefits of cheaper, subsidized tax-exempt financing meant for public purposes into private pockets instead. This kind of raid on the federal treasury is a perversion of the intent of the bonding privilege.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., who has introduced a bill to end industrial bond financing, points out the incoming company gets these benefits:

A new, modern plant on a lease at far less cost than if it built one itself.

Rental payments that can be fully charged off on income taxes as a business expense.

No local taxes, as a renter rather than owner.

The option of buying these bonds and pocketing the tax-free interest.

For example, a corporation signs a 30-year lease on a $4 million municipally built plant and buys the bonds used to finance it, the invesment bankers association says such a company "would, in effect, enjoy use of the plant rent-free for 30 years and, in addition, pile up a $480,000 profit on its $4 million tax-free loan."

Labor accepts the need for profitable, growing companies. It knows its own gains are tied in closely with corporate profits. It also has been a leader in developing federal programs to aid distressed areas.

But with automation and other changes reducing the proportion of the work force employed in manufacturing, the AFL-CIO says "it is a delusion to believe that there ever will be enough manufacturing plants to help all distressed localities."

Labor, which has been trying since 1954 to close this tax loophole, warns that "it is high time to finally put an end to the scandal of industrial - bond financing, and it must be done by the Congress."

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler last month predicted tax-free industrial bonds "would eventually become self-defeating." He said the whole situation is under close study.

The result of that investigation may help spark congressional action on two labor bills currently languishing in committee.

City Manager Role To Be Discussed

Members of the San Rafael Charter Revision Committee will discuss the possibility of increasing the city manager's authority at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at the new San Rafael City Hall, according to Roy M. Michael, committee chairman.

Among other items to be aired are taxation for library, parks, and retirement funds, and the appointment of E. Warren McGuire as special attorney for the committee.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Auto Wrecks, Not Air Crashes Leading Catastrophic Accidents

VAN DELLEN

Catastrophic accidents are those in which five or more people are killed. Many individuals refuse to fly because "it is dangerous," yet only 1,300 lost their lives in the 75 air catastrophies that occurred in the 1961-1965 period.

The largest death toll from accidents in which five or more were killed involved motor vehicles. According to the statistical bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the second most common were fires and explosions. Natural catastrophes such as tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, and other storms ranked third. Civil air transportation catastrophes increased moderately since World War II and remain in fourth place. Since 1940, the number killed in buses, railroads, and in mines and quarries has decreased.

ALL BUT two of the catastrophes in the past 25 years in which 100 or more died were due to fires, explosions, or natural causes. The exceptions were the collision of two planes in the air over Staten Island and the other over the Grand canyon. The Texas City fire and explosion in 1947 took 561 lives and the 1942 fire in a Boston night club claimed 492.

Hurricane Audrey was next with 395 fatalities followed by the death of 322 in the explosion of two ammunition ships in Port Chicago, Cal., in 1941. In 1952 a series of tornadoes killed 229 in several Mississippi Valley states. Last year tornadoes hit the midwest again leaving 272 dead.

CATASTROPHIC accidents are difficult to handle because most hospitals are not prepared to treat a dozen or more emergency cases at one time. Many institutions have disaster committees that organize the staff and personnel should a catastrophe occur. Medicos in Nagasaki also were prepared but the atomic bomb destroyed their hospitals and most of the nurses and physicians.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SITE OF HEART ATTACK

E.A.E. writes: My dad, who will be 70 on his next birthday, suffered a silent heart attack after entering the hospital. The condition was caused by edema. It cleared up but an EKG (his second) showed a diaphragmatic infarction. What type of heart attack is this?

REPLY

WANTS TO PRACTICE

L. E. writes: I have a good lead on how to kill the germs that cause cancer. How do I go about getting a license to practice?

REPLY

Since there are no more diploma mills, you must be admitted and graduate from a recognized medical school, obtain an internship, and pass your state board medical examinations.

NEW LIVER CELLS

Z. B. writes: What is meant by regeneration of the liver?

REPLY

In this process, the normal cells regenerate new cells which replace those that have been destroyed.

MEASLES TYPES

B. M. writes: Is German measues also known as false measles?

REPLY

No. Other names for German measles are rubella and three-day measles.

Textbooks Criticized For History Twisting

By PETER A. JANSSEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Elementary school textbooks are still as segregated and inaccurate as ever, distorting American history from the Indian era to the Civil Rights Revolution.

This is the conclusion of a year's study for the U.S. Office of Education by John S. Gibson, director of the Filene Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University, and a team of university and public school educators.

To correct the social maladies of most texts, Gibson proposes that schools start teaching about civil rights and racial differences in the first grade.

If schools wait until children "are ready," or until they recognize racial problems themselves, he adds, it will be too late.

"It may take the white, suburban four-year-old some time to make his negative associations explicit and applicable to specific individuals and groups," Gibson says, "the time it takes for him to see a Negro for the first time, for instance."

The new "integrated" texts do little to improve the problem, he adds, since they picture Negroes with Caucasion features who rarely speak or have names, don't live in "our" neighborhood and generally only "appear in street scenes as props for a movie scenario."

Texts today depict values in conflict with the realities of urban life. In the texts the ideal family is cooperative, clean, safe and white-skinned.

The books imply that "those people of the national origins first represented on this continent, the English, Dutch, Spanish and French, are the most ingenious, thrifty and brave groups of all."

"The role they played in the early exploration and settlement of the country completely outshines in degree and kind the role played by any group which arrived after the trees were cut down, the land parceled out and the Indians subdued."

The race problem is compounded, Gibson says, since the texts state that "the Negro is slowly but surely 'earning' his place in American society" by hard work and thrift.

Indians, however, never made it at all.

Gibson describes one book's picture of Columbus returning to the court of Queen Isabella with the caption: "He was invited to appear before King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella. He brought them several Indians, some live parrots, some stuffed birds and furs . . ."

Gibson comments that in this caption "the Indians are no different in kind or quality from the parrots, stuffed birds and furs."

Further, the black or white values placed on the revolution, colonization and settling of the plains prepare pupils for "a decadent patriotism," Gibson says.

"If we are to take these fifth-grade textbooks at their word, the significance of the American experience lies in the endurance of cold winters, the suppression of Indians, the removal of stones and trees, the navigation of rivers and the mining of gold."

Pupils need to deal with human problems in greater depth, he says. After reading current texts about the civil rights movement, suburban Boston third graders knew that citizens had to be 21 to vote, and that Negroes "are creating a great deal of trouble" because they can't vote in many areas.

Therefore, the pupils reasoned, Negroes must be "rioting because they aren't old enough to vote.

New Jury Trial Set In Burglary Case

New jury trial for Stanley Shrout, 28, and Robert Wayne Davis, 18, whose combined and lengthy burglary trial ended Aug. 4 in a hung jury, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Dec. 12.

The pair are accused of smashing a window of the Nicasio home of John G. Ziel on Jan. 28, entering and taking six guns. Shrout is from 51 Valencia Street, San Rafael. Davis is from Fresno.

I-J Newspaperboys
learn the route to success

The I-J's on the way—and so is he!

Perhaps it's the daily habit of delivering the news right to your home that gives I-J carriers, like him, a sense of direction in life.

Maybe it's the feeling of managing a route, where each boy is his own boss. Or the idea of collecting and banking money each month. Or maybe the channeling of energy into responsible effort . . . serving others.

It could be the solid training, too, which these boys receive from our experienced circulation advisors.

But one thing's certain: these boys develop AIMS and GOALS often a lot larger than the boys themselves. The aim to serve . . . the goal of a college education, for instance . . . with savings to attain it. They discover that delivering the paper on time, in place, can lead to the larger ends of independence and initiative.

Application To Raise Pier To Be Studied

The San Francisco Conservation and Development Commission will review an application by Kappas Yacht Harbor of Sausalito to raise the level of an existing roadway and pier at the harbor, when the commission convenes in San Francisco at 2 p.m. Aug. 19.

George Kappas, San Francisco land developer and owner of the yacht harbor, explained that he plans to beautify the harbor area after making the proposed alterations.

TV REVIEW

Ted Bessel Shows His Integrity

NEW YORK (UPI) —You meet such interesting people in television the networks ought to consider them program material as well as actors.

Take Ted Bessel who plays the boy friend of Marlo Thomas in the new ABC series, "That Girl." He might have been a priest except that the Canadian Jesuit he consulted at Georgetown University laughed him out of it.

So he turned to acting and brought to his profession a passionate integrity which is disturbing as well as refreshing. When his first big TV show "It's a Man's World" collapsed he got into his automobile and toured the country trying to save it.

"Some hated it, I know," he said over breakfast at the Brassirie, "but some loved it. Do you know what a minority is in television — 20 million people. That's a minority. I can see now that there were sketches we did that were perhaps too subtle, but I fight for what I believe in."

Bessel and Miss Thomas have been filming exteriors on Broadway to link with the studio material shot in Hollywood.

"It's dull to say nice things," Bessell said, "but one of the nicest possible things is Marlo. There's a tremendous chemistry when we play together, an exciting rapport. But there's no question it's her vehicle. I knew that when I took it."

Bessel said when he was in "Gomer Pyle" for a year friends kept advising him not to be so honest about himself or about television.

"I don't want to be satisfied," he said, earnestly. "I don't want to be complacent. I've never seen a piece of film of me that I liked. I don't want to keep quiet I want to be involved completely in what I am doing."

HOLY SANDMAN, ROBIN

Baby Lisa Ward, whose father, Burt Ward, is television's Robin on the Batman series, obviously doesn't share her father's interest in cameras, as she appears in public for the first time. The sleepy Lisa is the daughter of Burt and Bonney Ward; she weighed in last Thursday at 7 pounds, 3 ounces. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin Senior Citizens To View Seniorama

Fifty-four Marin senior citizens will travel Friday via chartered bus to Santa Cruz to view the Seniorama Show, a variety show featuring talented senior citizens.

According to Nancy Person, director at the San Rafael Community Center and head of the one-day Santa Cruz trip, two buses have been chartered for the group and a third bus may be used if additional reservations are received.

Navy Suggestion Results In Cash

William S. Jones of 201 Marion Ave., Mill Valley, received a cash award last week from Rear Adm. William D. Irvin, commander of the Military Sea Transportation Service as a result of a suggestion Jones offered which, an official Navy release stated, "saved the government a substantial amount of money."

Jones, chief ships clerk with the transportation service, suggested that controls be placed on copying machines in the service office to eliminate excessive reproduction of papers. According to the transportation service Public Affairs Office, the actual sum of money saved by the suggestion is unknown, but is classified under "intangible benefits."

The chief ships clerk, who is a veteran of 29 years of naval service, lives with his wife, Philippa, and has two married daughters.

Chain Saw Lost In Burglary

Loss of a chain saw in a burglary of the Nicasio home of Mario L. Gaidano, San Francisco, was reported yesterday by sheriff's deputies.

Gaidano said the saw was taken during the past two weeks. No forced entry was evident.

Terra Linda Playday Draws 60 Youngsters

More than 60 youngsters attended the Terra Linda Recreation Park District carnival Friday to participate in ring tossing, penny pitching, bean-bag throwing and other activities, according to James Hand, park and recreation director.

County Fire Tax Is Radio Topic

The county fire protection tax levy, lifted from city taxpayers last week by the Marin Board of Supervisors, will be discussed by a panel of four tomorrow on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m.

Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker, chairman of the board, and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who opposed removal of the tax, will appear along with Supervisor Peter H. Behr and assistant county administrator John Barrows, who favored the idea.

Questions from listeners are invited for the broadcast, which will be repeated Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Heart Attack Fatal To Dressen

DETROIT (AP) — Charlie Dressen, manager of two pennant winning baseball teams at Brooklyn in the early 1950s, and most recently manager of the Detroit Tigers, died today in Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital.

Tiger officials said the hospital had informed them that Dressen, who would have been 68 next Monday, died at 11:30 a.m. EDT of a cardiac arrest.

Dressen had entered the hospital the past Sunday with a kidney infection that followed two heart attacks, one last year and the second last spring.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth.

Dressen, somewhat quieter as manager of the Detroit Tigers — his last job — than he was during his playing days and early managerial assignments, had been in good spirits despite his ill health.

He had to give up active management of the team after his second heart attack May 16. Coach Bob Swift took over as acting manager, then was himself put out of action by cancer of the lung.

Dressen, who took over from Bob Scheffing during the 1963 season while the club was in ninth place, was in the midst of molding what was perhaps his best team since the pennant winners of Brooklyn in 1952 and 1953 when he suffered his first heart attack during spring training in 1965. He quit Brooklyn after the 1953 season when Walter O'Malley, Dodger owner, refused to give him a two-year contract.

He took walks daily from the hotel and when he was released following his first attack but was confined to the hotel for much of the time after the second one. He did most of his walking in the halls.

Dressen often boasted of never having suffered injury during his playing days. The first heart attack brought him face-to-face with serious illness for the first time.

He often said he never expected to take orders and have to follow them the way he did with the doctors.

They were fourth in the American League in 1964 and 1965.

RAY LEACH OPENS WITH 78 IN JAYCEE TOURNEY

Ray Leach of Novato ran into a rainstorm yesterday during his opening round in the International Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament at Greensboro, N. C. and finished the day's play with a seven-over-par 78.

The 16-year-old Marin youngster had nines of 40-38, going into today's final round of qualifying for the finals. His 78 put him in the middle of the pack of 199 junior golfers competing.

An Heir-Born Tennis Tourney; Amateur Golfers Need An Atlas

SIX LOVE: Mrs. Dave Lee, wife of the Mill Valley Tennis Club manager, gave birth to a six-pound boy at Marin General Hospital last week while proud papa was busy hosting the Marin County Junior Hardcourt Tennis Championships.

The happy couple promptly named their son Wilson T. Lee and I'll just die if you don't ask me how they arrived at that name.

Bescause, Wilson T.ennis balls were used during the Mill Valley tournament. (Well, what did you expect, Abercrombie & Fitch?)

WESTWARD HO (HAH!)—I think someone should send an Atlas to the sponsors of the Western Amateur Golf Classic. The annual tournament, in which San Rafael's Ron Cerrudo was runner-up, was played last week at—would you believe Pinehurst, N.C.?

The last time I checked my Rand-McNally coloring book the only thing North Carolina was west of was the Atlantic Ocean, so how come they played the "Western" Amateur there?

This really puzzled me until I came up with a possible explanation in my trusty U.S. Golf Coure Guide In fine print I discovered that the Pinehurst C.C. is located six miles WEST of U.S. Highway 1 in North Carolina.

Anyway, I guess we can expect the Eastern Amateur to be played in Hawaii, the Southern in Minnesota and the Northern in Brownsville, Tex.

ANOTHER GOLF NOTE: In the National Junior Tournament at Whittier last weekend, the boy who defeated Novato's Ray Leach in the finals discovered sadly that cleanliness is not necessarily next to Godliness.

En route to his narrow victory over Leach, Gary Sanders, 16, of Buena Park made a "goof" which cost him a key hole and shook him up a little. He thought he had won the 12th hole with a par, but officials awarded the hole to Leach because Sanders cleaned his ball twice. Once is the limit per hole.

The youngster overcame this shocking penalty to win, but the occasion just pointed out another of golf's rough rules. And a dirty one at that.

I SEE THAT Bob Bass is publicity chairman for the 56th annual Dipsea Race this month, but there's no truth to the rumor that they'll call it the Run of Bass, even though it does end at Stinson Beach where the runners may take a dip in the sea and I'd better stop now before I go into my 1918 vintage halibut routine and break you all up.

SAN RAFAEL Recreation Department has announced that last Friday's softball league doubleheader was cancelled because all four teams failed to show up.

What I want to know is: Do all four teams get credit for forfeit victories or charged with forfeit defeats? Things like this worry me.

Baseball Tourney Starts Friday

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Baseball players who play for little more than the fun of it — and some with a hope of gaining major league recognition — will start gathering here Friday for the annual National Baseball Congress Tournament.

Some 512 players representing 32 teams, which have won state or bi-state tournaments, will qualify to compete for the title.

Disgruntled Pros Talk Of Splitting With PGA

Cooler heads on both sides of the long-simmering controversy are attempting to head off a complete split, but they are running into problems.

This was indicated by the failure to reach a solid agreement in an all-day session of the PGA tournament committee yesterday at the Upper Montclair Country Club here, where the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic opens tomorrow.

The seven-man committee kicked around some old problems, listened to gripes from various tournament players and came up empty-handed.

"We have nothing to report," said Max Elbin, president of the PGA. "We hope to settle this thing amicably without publicity."

"We have nothing to say," added Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the players' committee.

As in Akron, Ohio, during the week of the PGA Championship last month, the tournament players and the PGA found no common ground for a working arrangement.

What will happen now?

Nobody was willing to say. But there were militant men among the playing group urging a clean breakaway from the parent body and complete autonomy in their own affairs.

Others, such as Jacobs and Elbin, were seeking to save the situation.

"We need each other," said Elbin.

The touring pros want to set up their own organization with the right to pick their own tournament director, fix distribution of television receipts and draw up a pension plan.

These are prerogatives which have always been under the wing of the PGA, ruling body of the pros for half a century, with a ratio of 15-1 home or teaching pros over the tour boys.

The tournament players, who now play for $4 million a year in prize money, figure they are now grown up and big enough to run their own business.

"We don't want a shop keeper telling us what to do," is the general complaint of the pro tourists, who fly their own jet planes and have business managers.

The PGA is willing to make concessions but feels it is the organization which has built and nurtured the tour and the only one that keeps it going.

The tour players threatened to boycott the PGA's Golden Anniversary Championship last month but relented when promised their demands would be given attention at the annual convention in December.

One of their suggestions is that they be allowed to form their own section, one of 35 in the PGA, and conduct their own affairs. They also want to cut more of the home pros out of the PGA Championship.

Jacobs and Elbin said they didn't know when future talks would be held. Other members of the tournament committee are Dan Sikes, Gardner Dickinson and Mason Rudolph, all tournament players; Elbin and Secretary Leo Fraser and treasurer Warren Orlick of the PGA.

Giants Wind Up Road Trip

CINCINNATI (AP) — San Francisco's Giants may use ace pitcher Juan Marichal tonight in an attempt to salvage the final contest of a dismal 15-day trip.

Marichal (17-4) is recovering from a sprained ankle and may not be ready. In that case, the Giants intend to go with Ron Herbel (4-4).

Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole (4-4) will provide the opposition.

The Giants lost a frustratingly close one to Cincinnati last night, 3-2. It dropped San Francisco a full game behind the National League leading Pittsburgh Pirates. And it was the Giants' eighth setback on this trip.

The Giants twice tied the game. The first deadlock came in the fifth when Jim Ray Hart doubled, went to third on a grounder and scored on Jesus Alou's sacrifice fly.

San Francisco's Bob Bolin, now 6-7, pitched creditably, going the complete route. He allowed only seven hits, gave up four bases on balls and struck out three.

Braves Defeat Koufax

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hitchcock, who replaced Bobby Bragan as manager of the Braves yesterday, piloted the club to a 2-1 victory over Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Denny Lemaster, who finished with a three-hitter, held the Dodgers hitless for seven innings, protecting a 1-0 lead provided by Felipe Alou's leadoff homer in the first.

After the rain, Hitchcock watched his outfielders trot through puddles catching fly balls to preserve the no-hit bid. Then, in the eighth inning, Jim Lefebvre ended the spell with a leadoff homer, tying the score.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

The Braves had a golden opportunity to take the lead in the bottom of the eighth but instead of the tie-breaking run, all Hitchcock got was aggravation.

After Mack Jones was tossed out of the game for protesting a called strike, pinch hitter Mike de la Hoz drew a walk. Ty Cline ran for de la Hoz and moved to second on Denis Menke's sacrifice. Woody Woodward's second hit of the game tipped off Maury Wills' glove, Cline going to third.

OTHER SCORES

Elsewhere in the National League, first place Pittsburgh shaded the New York Mets 2-1, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 3-2, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 3-2 and Houston ripped Chicago 8-5.

After Lefebvre's homer, Koufax doubled with two out in the Dodger eighth but was stranded. Tommy Davis' two-out single in the ninth was the only other hit off Lemaster, who struck out 10 and pulled his record to 10-8.

PIRATES' RUNS

The Mets knocked Fryman out, scoring their run on two hits and a walk in the seventh, but Pete Mikkelsen pitched hitless relief the rest of the way and preserved the rookie's ninth victory.

Billy Casper, Friendly Ghost Of Golf

By BOB GREEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Casper, who may be the best golfer alive right now, is a quiet, articulate, friendly fellow. But nobody knows him. He's lost in the shadow of the Big Three, somehow a vague, nebulous figure in the background of golf, this friendly Billy Casper.

Vague, shadowy. You know. A Friendly Ghost, Billy Casper.

He added a little substance to the shadow yesterday when he took time off from his preparations for the Thunderbird Open to give a glimpse into his thinking and ambitions.

"Certainly I have a goal," he said. "I've always had a goal. The goals change over the course of the years, but I very definitely have a goal right now.

"I want to win the Masters. Pure and simple. I want to win the Masters."

Casper is a two-time winner of the U.S. Open, the second leading money winner on the all-time list, the leader this season, winner of four major tourneys, the leader in Varden points.

You name it, he's up there. But the publicity goes to the Big Three — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player. He doesn't call it a sore point, and he's far too polite to make a knock — but it's obvious he's thought a lot about it.

"The Big Three. This is a term created by the press," he said. "It's a good term, a very good term. But it could be expanded to other players," said the man who is dominating the pro game this year.

"Tony (Lema) should have been included. I'd say when you get to a major championship — the Masters, Open, PGA — there are about 15 players who have a good chance to win it.

"Don't misunderstand me. Arnold and Jack and Gary have given a lot to the game. They can get up for a big one as well as anyone. They deserve everything that has been written about them. But there are others."

"Ken Venturi and I were on a television program this morning. We were talking about the same thing — the Big Three. And Ken said, 'It ought to be the Big One, this guy Casper'."

He said it with a laugh and almost blushed at his departure from character. Then he hurried on.

"I don't really mind. My primary purpose is to make a living for my family."

With more than $100,000 in total winnings this season, he admitted they aren't wanting too badly. And, he suggested, it might get better.

"I think I'm just entering my peak years," the 35-year-old Casper said. "The years between now and when I'm 40 should be the best.

"A golfer's peak, in years, varies with the individual. Golf, I think, is the greatest sport in the world. It requires the use of every muscle in your body. And it requires the mind.

"It also takes an awful lot of self-control. That's why some good ones leave early. We live a glamorous life, us guys on the tour. It would be easy to be led astray. Self-discipline is very important. It prolongs your competitive life."

He later turned to his playoff triumph over Arnold Palmer in the U.S. Open at San Francisco this year, where he overcame a seven stroke deficit on the last nine holes, tied Palmer and won it the next day.

"I know it must have been a shattering thing for him. But he's a strong eonugh man to overcome it."

And does he mind being in the shadow of Palmer, Nicklaus and Player?

"Not really. It's kind of — what do you say? — a compliment. Being taken for granted. Everyone expects me to be there. I don't mind.

Beard Impressive In His New Role

The San Francisco 49ers got something out of the deal, too. They gained a starting middle linebacker for the coming National Football League season.

At first, the club wasn't sure what they had. They drafted Beard ninth in 1964 as a 241-pound tackle from Tennessee. But Ed went into the Army and stepped lightly into the 49er camp last year weighing only 218. (He's 230 now.)

"That's hardly big enough for any position in this league," Beard remarked at the club's St. Mary's College training site. "I don't know what happened—Army life, I guess."

The coaches quickly abandoned any ideas of letting Beard mix it up with 250 to 270-pound guards and tackles. They gave him a shot at the rightside linebacker position. An Injury to middle backer Mike Dowdle moved Beard to where he is today.

Beard so impressed the staff while filling in last year that Dowdle has been shifted to the side. The coaches liked the way Beard tackled. He hits hard.

"I'm smaller than the rest of the linebackers and tackling is one way I have to compensate," Beard said. "I usually hit high and go completely through the ball carrier about waist high or at the chest."

Killy Trying For Skiing Grand Slam

Killy, the 23-year-old French customs officer who pulled off a major upset when he won the downhill title Sunday, grabbed the slalom lead yesterday when he turned 52 gates in 1 minute, 37.22 seconds.

The performance over the 1,240-meter course earned the French skier a slim lead over countryman Guy Perillat, who was timed in 1:37.43; Austria's Karl Schranz, 1:37.64; Jakob Tischhauser, 1:37.96, and Dumeng Giovanoli, 1:38.17, both of Switzerland; France's Georges Mauduit, 1:38.43 and Switzerland's Willy Gavre, 1:38.95.

Killy and the other competitors seemed to feel the effect of the altitude. The Frenchman, glassy-eyed and shaking, said "I had no punch. I felt tired today, but tomorrow we will see."

Yesterday's course dropped 464 meters from the starting point 3,309 meters above sea level on a cliff overlooking the Hotel Portillo. Today, the skiers went over an even steeper course on the other side of the same cliff.

Several coaches expressed apprehension at the course. Carl Driandt of the Swedish team said "we think the course is very dangerous. It is so steep."

Bibbo Nodenskjold of Sweden, a race referee, filed a written protest against the course, saying it was so steep in one portion that a racer who fell would be in peril without a crash helmet.

America's best showing yesterday was by Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., who finished 12th in 1:40.09. Jim Barrows of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was 22nd in 1:42.56.

Killy needed a victory today and another in the week to wrap up the grand slam.

San Jose Fans Boo Decision

SAN JOSE (AP) — Fans objected strongly to the close decision awarded last night to Ray Echavarria, 128, of San Jose over Pete Gonzales, 128, also of San Jose.

The referee, only judge in the fight, ruled Echavarria had won five rounds, Gonzales four and one even. Most rounds were close, with Gonzales pressing with hooks to the body in the seventh.

Sohner Wins Tournament Game, 7-2

Sohner Tree Service trimmed Two-Rock Army of Petaluma, 7-2, last night in the second game of the seventh annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament.

No action is scheduled tonight, but Luna's of San Francisco makes its tourney debut tomorrow against the Larkfield Merchants of Santa Rosa.

The Santa Rosa team was surprised by the Marin All-Stars, 4-3, in the tournament opener Monday.

The single round robin tournament will conclude Friday, Aug. 19. All games are played at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

After each team scored in the first inning, Sohner added single markers in the second and third and then tallied three times in the fourth to break open the game.

Adams Cup Racing Plans Explained By Marin Club

San Francisco Bay will be the scene of the 39th annual Women's North American Sailing Championships from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1, when yachtswomen from near and distant waters converge at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere to vie in the celebrated National Adams Cup finals.

Plans for the event were officially announced yesterday by the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club at their clubhouse.

Although the show will go on without the three-member SFYC Adams Cup team competing, exuberance and enthusiasm still bubble at the host club.

The SFYC Adams Cup team, captained by 18-year-old Susan Wosser, an able, water-loving skipper from Tiburon, won the Bay Area quarter-finals, capping a good season for Marin's women sailors. The team lost out in the semi-finals only after Susan disqualified herself in the first race because of too great an overlap at the first mark in the race.

In the history of the race, the upcoming event has never been held in San Francisco Bay.

The Mrs. Charles Francis Adams Trophy, a coveted silver bowl, was first donated as the prize for "proficiency in seamanship and sportsmanlike conduct in sail-yacht racing on the part of yachtswomen" in 1925; and in this year's event, winning skippers and crews from eight racing districts of North America will be welcomed at the yacht club. Teams from New England, Long Island, New York, Central Eastern, Middle West, South Aatlantic, California and Pacific International areas.

Cal-20 class sloop-rigged fiberglass yachts are the boats to be used in the Adams Cup finals. The yachts are 20 feet in overall length, with an 18-foot water line and a sail area of 196 square feet. The boats' rudder dips about three-feet beneath the water. The handling of the spinnaker will be a key factor in the race.

It has not yet been determined by the coordinating committee, but the spinnaker, which is only set up when the wind is directly behind a boat, will be rigged up at least twice each race. This of course depends on the wind conditions that prevail for the eight races to be held in prescribed courses in the North Bay off Berkeley shoals, three on Aug. 29 and 30, and two on Sept. 1.

Boats will be exchanged in the customary round-robin system which means that each crew will use a different boat in each race and, besides other opening day formalities, boat rotation will be established on Aug. 28.

So North America's best yachtswomen are going to have their hands full. But like they say, sailing is like chess—you have to know what moves to make and when; the stiffer the competition, the bettter you like it. And it's a challenge. And it's fun, too.

Davidson Says Arm Improving

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Cotton Davidson, Oakland Raiders quarterback, thinks his throwing arm may be fully recovered from an operation by the start of the regular pro season.

"Right now there's no pain and there hasn't been any problem," Davidson said yesterday at the Raiders' training camp. "I have complete range of motion and the only difference is it's not as strong as it used to be.

"But I think by the start of the season it will be as strong as it ever was."

LITTLE LEAGUE

Norcal Tourney Opens In Marin

Four Northern California Little League teams are scheduled to play in the three-day Divisional Tournament starting tomorrow at Novato's Pinheiro Field, it was announced by Dave Moore, tournament director.

Campbell Little League is slated to go against Airport Little League from the Sacramento area in the first round game tomorrow, 6 p.m.; and second round action Friday pits Petaluma American Little League against Hanford of the Fresno area, also at 6 p.m.

The winners will play Saturday at 3 p.m. on the same field, while the losers will go at it in consolation action at 1 p.m.

The winner of this tournament will advance to the Far Western Regional tournament at San Leandro Aug. 18-20 and the winner there will go on to Williamsport, Pa., for the Little League World Series.

Last year the Novato All-Stars won district, area and divisional championships before losing in the Far Western Regional. However, they captured the California State title along the way.

Petaluma earned a berth in this weekend's Novato tournament by edging the Sausalito All-Stars, 4-3, in seven innings last Saturday at Sebastopol.

Marinites Will Hunt Big Game In Alaska

Jim Jacobsen of Novato, Pete Thornton of San Anselmo, George Davis of San Rafael, Don Camiccia of Sleepy Hollow and Gene Thompson, owner of the Western Sport Shop, San Rafael, are leaving for three weeks.

The hunters will fly to Anchorage, at which point they will pick up a truck and camper, and will spend a week driving from Anchorage to Fairbanks, approximately 500 miles. They will fish and take pictures for relaxation on the way.

At Fairbanks, the big game hunters will be picked up by their bush pilot and guide, Ray Loesche, and be flown into the Moody Creek area where they will hunt moose, caribou and Dahl sheep.

Lema Scholarship Is Established

NEW YORK (AP) — A $1,000 scholarship in memory of the late Tony Lema was established yesterday by the All-American Collegiate Golf Committee.

The award, starting next year, will go to a deserving college golfer. Don Kendell was named chairman of a committee to determine the winner.

Fresno Gal Medalist In U.S. Tourney

Miss Hamlin, a 17-year-old newcomer who has been playing golf only four years, and Miss Bell, 29, a veteran of tournament competition, broke the Women's Amateur 18-hole record yesterday with three-under-par 70s over the Sewickley Heights Golf Club course. They had the only sub-par rounds of the tournament.

Miss Hamlin, a high school junior from Fresno, Calif., also won medalists' honors with a record two-round total of 143, five strokes better than the previous mark of 148 set last year by Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth, Ohio.

Miss Bell, of Colorado Springs, Colo., had a chance to set the record all alone, but she took a double-bogey six on the 18th hole. She was runnerup medalist with a two-day total of 149.

The two qualifying rounds were to have ended yesterday with the field cut to the low 32 scorers for match play beginning with two 18-hole rounds today.

But heavy rain and lightning struck in late afternoon and forced suspension of play with 23 players still on the course.

Fights Last Night

Party Job Splits Brown, Anderson

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Soft-spoken Glenn M. Anderson likes to say "there never has been a lieutenant governor who has worked closer with the administration."

But today, the balding, crew-cut No. 2 man in California's state government is opposing his Democratic running mate, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in a major party fight.

DEMOS GATHER

Some early arriving Democrats began checking in today, well in advance of the party convention Saturday and the central committee meeting Sunday.

Anderson talked about his rare disagreements with Brown and the prospects of his defeating Republican Robert Finch, in an interview.

EARLIER SPLITS

He recalled he has opposed the governor before in political disputes—although he's usually on Brown's side when it comes to government policy.

In 1960 Anderson and a group of Democrats considered to be in the party's more liberal wing disagreed with Brown's decision to support the late John F. Kennedy for the presidency.

That same division—between those calling themselves moderates and those placing themselves firmly in the liberal camp—seems to play a part in the contest between Warren and Mrs. Warschaw, now Southern California Democratic chairman.

RAPS LABELS

But Anderson said he doesn't like labels.

"I think that a person can be a moderate in one phase of public life and a conservatice in another," he said. "In business and economics, I feel I'm a moderate, if not conservative. But when I get into the field of human relations, I feel I'm a liberal."

His decision to oppose the governor again has thrust Anderson into the spotlight, but he said "the media focuses on the top man unless there's a fight."

As of now, Anderson said he and Brown "face an uphill fight" against Ronald Reagan, the Republican candidate for governor, and Finch, the lieutenant governor nominee.

The polls, he said, show him leading Finch and Brown trailing Reagan.

"As the general election comes along, they put those personality things aside and start thinking about specific issues and philosophies and this is where Governor Brown picks up."

Marin Board Stands Firm On Flood Plan Aesthetics

Marin supervisors yesterday reiterated their demand that any flood control work on Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio Creek which runs through Mill Valley must be in keeping with the natural environment and preserve aesthetic values.

The action was in response to a letter from Lt. Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, saying that the county board of supervisors must apply for flood control work in Mill Valley by Sept. 1 or he will assume the county is not interested.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker both said they resented this stand. The board had already said it is interested in flood control if aesthetics are preserved. Boerger had not commented on this position.

Supervisors ordered a letter to Boerger again outlining the county's position and asked a resolution be prepared for federal officials outlining the need for preserving aesthetic values.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked that the words "design flood" be eliminated from the Army Corps of Engineer's criteria in designing channels.

He said that the term forces the corps to design for maximum flooding, making channels much bigger than needed in normal winters.

Novato Boys Club Richer By $1,000

The newly organized Boys Club of Novato became $1,000 richer in one swoop last night.

Joseph Bonomolo, president of the Novato Fair Merchants Assn. and also organizer of the boys club, asked the Novato city council to waive the $500 fee to be paid by the fun fair shows to operate at that shopping center in Novato Sept. 14 to 18.

If the council waived the fee, he said, the Novato Fair merchants would take $250 as their share of returns from the rides and donate it to the boys club. The Fun Fair shows agreed to match this $250 plus the $500 fee, making a total of $1,000 to the boys club.

The council readily agreed to this for charity, but asked for a formal report from Bonomolo.

Supervisors' Letter Asks Seashore Delay

Marin County supervisors yesterday unanimously approved a letter to Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall asking delay in action on an appropriation bill for Point Reyes National Seashore which would allow some private development there.

The supervisor's letter asks that the bill proposed by George B. Hartzog, director of the National Park Service, be "delayed, deferred, or withdrawn." Hartzog's bill would add 43.5 million dollars to the land acquisition fund, but would allow the park service to sell or lease a portion of the land with restictions on use.

Supervisor William T. Store would not vote for a resolution asking delay in the Hartzog bill, but did vote for the letter asking delay. The supervisors decided not to act on the resolution when Storer's objection showed that the vote would not be unanimous.

Storer said that some alternative to the 30.5 million dollar allocation bill proposed by Rep. Ronald R. Clausen and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, should be under study in case the Clausen-Kuchel bill fails. The supervisors adopted a resolution urging congressional approval of that bill.

Before a method was invented to granulate sugar, sugar had to be purchased in large loaves.

Mother, Daughter Cut In Accident

Mrs. Jordan turned her head to see and her 1957 Volkswagen carreened across Barber Avenue in San Anselmo and slammed against a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. pole opposite 151 Barber Avenue, police reported.

Susan was in good condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple cuts on her arms and legs. Mrs. Jordan was treated at the hospital for facial cuts.

Key Officials Appointed To Slum Project

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Key personnel have been named to head a new program designed to offer better service to slum area residents seeking welfare aid, employment opportunities or other government help.

It is the main part of the state antipoverty package passed by this year's legislature. The program will bring under one roof at one stop all the various scattered agencies now charged with helping the less favored segment of California's population.

The one-stop centers will be set up in San Diego, Long Beach East Los Angeles, South Central Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Bakersfield, Fresno, Stockton, Oakland, San Francisco, Richmond and Vallejo.

Named by Gov. Brown yesterday as director of the program was Bertram S. Griggs, regional parole and community services administrator for the Corrections Department.

Two Inmates Battling Forest Fires Escape

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two prisoners, released from strict custody to fight a brush and forest fire, escaped yesterday with a deer rifle and a pickup truck.

They were among the hundreds of men fighting three major blazes in Northern California, the largest of which has burned over 17,000 acres in Mendocino National Forest, north of San Francisco.

The U.S. Forest Service hoped for better weather today in efforts to surround that fire. This is California's dry season and a fog, an increase in humidity or a lack of winds would help.

George Ramstad, service spokesman, said: "We don't know yet when we will have the fire contained.

The blaze, which had destroyed some 30 million board feet of timber valued at $600,000, is in the Round Mountain area seven miles north of Upper Lake in Lake County.

Another fire 12 miles south of Covelo in Mendocino County was reported under control. It had burned 8,617 acres.

The two prison inmates—one a murderer and the other a narcotics user—escaped from a crew at that fire.

The State Department of Corrections said they were believed to have fled in a 1960 pickup truck and that they may be armed with a deer rifle.

The men were identified as Leroy Downes, 36, convicted of first degree murder in San Francisco in 1957, and Thomas Pratt, 29, convicted of possession of narcotics in Sacramento County. Both men were from a conservation camp at Susanville.

A 2,400-acre fire south of Clear Lake in Lake County was reported controlled by State Division of Forestry officials.

State Labor Federation Attacks Guideline Ceiling

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The California Federation of Labor has condemned the administration's 3.2 per cent guideline ceilings on wage and price increases and called for sweeping reforms in both state and national tax structures.

The 2,000-man AFL-CIO group held the first business session yesterday of its five-day convention after hearing several speakers, including Gov. Brown, Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson and Controller Alan Cranston — all of whom dwelt principally on labor-oriented policies in government and issues and personalities in the fall elections.

One item of business was an appeal from the American Federation of State, County and City Workers for support in its declared intention to ignore any law which forbids it to strike. The appeal was backed with only two dissenting votes.

The labor group, which had earlier pledged its strong support to Gov. Brown, was nevertheless unsparing in its criticism of tax policies of the Democratically controlled state and federal governments. In both cases, there were charges that patchwork tax measures are discriminating against the poor and the wage earners in favor of the wealthy.

The recent State Legislature was called regressive and accused of drifting from one revenue crisis to the next. The Legislature was exhorted to rely more on the individual income tax, establish a pay-as-you-go withholding system, increase corporate taxes, and reduce taxes on consumer goods and services.

The federal tax system was chastised as being inequitable, especially in extracting about $100 million in income taxes from families of less than $3,000 per year income, the group that is "the supposed target of the war on poverty."

The federal administration likewise was taken to task for retaining its 3.2 per cent guideline ceilings on wages and prices. This policy was described as unfair and unworkable, "shortchanging the wage earners, who do not set prices."

Airport Proposal Off Ground Again

When the smoke cleared, however, supervisors agreed on a land deal which put the airport proposal back "on the road."

Debate had stalled last week when doubts developed over some phases of the deal, involving land belonging to the W. Q. Wright family.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen kicked off yesterday's discussion by saying it would have the county money to move the airport 1,500 feet north of the Wright property. Atty Robert D. Carrow, representing the Wright family, retorted that, since 1959, Wright had been led to believe the new airport would be in the location shown on a master plan adopted that year.

Chairman Byron W. Leydecker said Kettenhofen was merely stating an alternative in the best interests of taxpayers and did not wish to imply the Wrights were holding out for more money.

Kettenhofen took up his own defending, shouting, "If I was Wright, and I was dealing with Carrow or anybody I would get the highest price and best deal I could . . ."

Leydecker crashed the gavel down on the desk. "We will not have that type of talk here," he said.

THRASHED OUT

Carrow said arguments over the location of the airport should have been thrashed out a year ago. Leydecker brought tempers down to the simmering point by explaining there would be no time now to amend the site and it would come up "another year" should no funding be available from the Federal Aviation Agency for this year. He said he thought Kettenhofen's proposal, which would have also made the airport available in any weather, had merit.

The original agreement with the Wright family, negotiated in April, called for payment of $68,650 for purchase of 27.46 acres, $6,280 for purchase of an easement on 5.06 acres, $25,070 for severance on about 21 acres and $10,000 for reversionary rights on the present runway.

DOWN PAYMENTS

The amended agreement calls for eliminating the severance pay and buying instead the 21 acres at a cost of no more than $45,000. Supervisors will also enter into negotiations for the "down payment" of a section of the old runway with another parcel of Wright property.

Deputies Say Girl Sold Marijuana

A 16-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl who, sheriff's deputies claim, went into business for herself by planting marijuana seeds in her parent's front yard, was arrested Monday by sheriff's juvenile officers and placed in juvenile hall.

Harvey Teague, chief juvenile inspector, said the parents were unaware of the crop because there were dozens of other legal plants growing in the large yard.

He said he first learned of the crop after another 16-year-old girl's mother informed him her daughter had marijuana in her possession. Questioning of the girl revealed she had purchased a small matchbox full of marijuana for $5 from the other girl, he said.

Teague then went to the latter's, gained permission to check the yard from her mother, and found four plants growing amidst the other plants, he said.

He said the girl was charged with marijuana sales and cultivation. Possible charges against the other girl and the person who first supplied marijuana to the arrested girl are still under investigation.

Bridge Cheating Charges Denied

LONDON (AP)—The British Bridge League branded as untrue yesterday allegations that two top British players cheated during the world contract bridge championship in Buenos Aires last year.

The league's committee announced its decision after studying a report of an independent inquiry which took more than a year.

The two players, Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro, were at today's committee meeting. They have consistently denied cheating.

Thieves Haul Away Tape Recorder, Suit

William Fowler of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, told police that someone stole clothing, a tape recorder, speakers and tapes from his auto while it was parked in the Corte Madera Shopping Center parking lot Monday morning.

Among items Fowler listed stolen were the $400 tape recorder, a suit worth $165 and an $85 sport coat, police said.

San Anselmo 'Goltz Plan' Deserves A Hard Look

For at least two decades, it has been clear to many that San Anselmo's downtown is not likely to expand or improve much in the absence of some dramatic changes in the situation which binds and confines it.

The afterglow of V-J Day had hardly died down when San Anselmo merchants began talking "master plan." In due course they came up with a do-it-yourself plan which had good possibilities.

From time to time since then there have been planning projects to provide for growth, expansion and development of the downtown area. But little has been done beyond the talk stage.

Most recent of these grand-blueprints-never-implemented was the merchants' plan for a downtown off-street parking district. That whole effort just seemed to die from lack of interest or support.

Comes now Daniel H. Goltz, a private citizen, who has prepared a plan for downtown San Anselmo. It was unveiled a few nights ago before the city's planning commission.

Goltz is an architect who is especially interested in San Anselmo's downtown problems. His plan shows a great deal of thought and ingenuity. It is worth very careful study and consideration.

Because it is imaginative, it could be the one that ignites the long needed spark to get something started in the way of massive downtown overhaul.

San Anselmo has NOT been standing still for two decades.

While the "hub" is not yet an ideal intersection, it has been vastly improved over the years.

The widening and dividing of Sir Francis Drake through the most congested area has helped traffic flow immeasurably. The construction of the fountain adjacent to the hub and bits of landscaping here have done wonders—in a small way.

San Anselmo was one of the first of Marin's municipalities to develop off-street parking. It was adequate when first developed, but the town's needs have grown immensely and off-street parking facilities have not kept pace.

All of the development in San Anselmo has NOT been at taxpayers' expense. Many owners of downtown business property have made substantial investments in attractive new and improved buildings. San Anselmo Avenue, for instance, is much more attractive to the eye today than it was a few years ago.

Everybody interested in San Anselmo's future should take a good, long look at Architect Goltz's plan. If it did nothing but stimulate interest leading to constructive action of some kind, it would be a milestone in San Anselmo history.

Thoughts On An August Afternoon

August afternoons are made for daydreaming. It is easy to slide away in an ill-defined reverie, letting our thoughts take us where they will.

August. Named for Caesar Augustus. Ruler of the far-flung Roman Empire. Splendor and wealth unexcelled! And, oh yes, "A decree went out from Caesar Augustus . . ." The Gospels. A story about a poor carpenter's son born in a stable. Lived 33 years and we killed him. By that time it was Tiberius Caesar, a resolutely dissolute fellow who probably never heard of the carpenter's son. Yet, today, who has heard of Tiberius Caesar and who hasn't heard of the carpenter's son?

August. Summer is slipping away. The days are beginning to get short. But hot weather lies ahead for Marin. Marin's summer is autumn. It's a funny climate, but we love it. Miss warm mornings though.

August. Hydrangeas. Fuchsias. Amaryllis. Roses, for the Nth time this season. Petunias. Who can name them all?

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bare Majority Of Voters Might Dictate State Debt Ceiling

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Proposition 4 on the November ballot is one to which property owners and taxpayers will want to give a great amount of study before casting a ballot.

This is a proposed constitutional amendment reducing the requirement in the constitution for the passage of local general obligation bonds for library or school bonds from 66⅔ per cent of the votes cast to 60 per cent.

The measure represents a compromise of attempts over several years to lower the requirement to a simple majority for the passage of such bond issues. It marks the first inroad on the protections now afforded taxpayers against the passage of unnecessary bond issues on local ballots.

FUNDAMENTALLY, the electorate adopted the present constitutional restrictions to prevent attempts by educators to provide unwanted and unnecessary school facilities.

The sagacity of the people in adopting these local school bond issues has long been a thorn in the side of the educators. Generally, the people adopt bond issues when they are necessary to provide good educational facilities, and rebel against additional debt when present facilities will fill the bill.

The two-thirds majority measure has assisted materially in carrying out this pattern. Many bond issues are defeated by one or two per cent. Hence, the desire of the educators and the California Teachers Assn. to decrease the percentage.

It is a fact that in special elections for bond issues that little more than 20 per cent of the voters go to the polls. It would mean, then that if the laws permitted a simple majority to carry a bond election, slightly more than 10 per cent of the voters could saddle the community with a huge school bond debt.

EVEN WITH a 60 per cent majority necessary to pass the issue, only a slightly higher percentage of those voting would be necessary for school bond increases.

Surprisingly enough, no one has written a negative argument on Proposition 4. So it will appear on the ballot without any argument urging that it be defeated.

In any event, passage of the amendment will do nothing but bring closer the day when only a simple majority of the voters will dictate the debt ceiling for those who pay the bill.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Congratulations To McCarthy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As the State Senator for Kern County and one who is vitally interested in district and county fairs, it has been my pleasure to serve on the Joint Committee on Fairs Allocation and Classification of the State Legislature. We of the committee are aware of the fact that several fairs in California need additional capital outlay monies. One of these is your own fair in Marin County.

During the 1966 legislative session, working with State Senator John F. McCarthy, he and I were able to convince the Legislature of this need and the 1966 budget was augmented in the amount of $1.2 million for this purpose. I am informed that $336,000 of this augmentation is being released to the Marin County fair to construct an auditorium type structure to be used for meetings, exhibits, and other cultural programs in your area.

I am sure the people of Marin County are grateful for Senator McCarthy's efforts while working with me to achieve this augmentation. His efforts have not only helped his own fair, but a number of other fairs throughout California who had the same basic needs for capital outlay expenditures as did Marin County.

I congratulate him for his efforts, and on the fact that Marin County will share in the augmentation to the amount of $336,000.

Stand on your soap box and shout while you can, Mrs. (V.A.) Cochran (whose letter was printed Aug. 6)! People are waking up to the fact that Robert Welch and his followers are nothing more than diehards left over from the Father Coughlin and McCarthy days.

It won't be long until you and your patriotic Americans are nothing more than foul memories. So I say again, shout loud. Somewhere there is another sick mind that will listen.

Need To Point Out Statement Fallacy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It seems to me that your readers should be shown the utter fallacy of the statements made by writer (Mrs. Sybil) Guenther in Friday's (Aug. 5) I-J, showing clearly that absolutely no real study has been made, either on this particular land tax subject, or on any other method of taxation.

It has been clearly stated that the present total land base assessed value statewide in California will not exceed $15 billion. Land that might be held by land speculators, if the assessed value on same were tripled, could not possibly add more than $2 billion to this land tax base (there is not nearly as much speculative land held as we are led to believe) and this would have to be made to raise some $4 billion which is the total amount of all local, city and county budgets for the State in 1964-65. This would require two things — either the rate would have to be around 23.5 per cent-($23.50 per $100 assessed valuation) or land values in general would have to be raised some 18 billions of dollars (more than double what it is assessed at now and this means all lands).

The main item the land tax backer speaks of is to force the land speculators to dispose of their holdings by taxing it so very heavily they could not afford to keep it. Well this works two ways—if it is taxed so heavily that the land speculator (usually a wealthy man or corporation) cannot afford to hold it, how in the world do you expect an ordinary man to purchase same?

The truth of the matter is that under such a land tax system no one would or could afford to own a home, where almost all revenue is raised from land taxes alone.

For writer Guenther's information, the gross transaction and sales tax system we mentioned in our letter, is the only method of raising the necessary revenue that will reduce the total amount of taxes paid by a homeowner by more than 50 per cent. No other method of taxation can make such a claim and we might add that no tax expert, State or otherwise has been able to prove that it will not do everything we claim for it. It is the only sensible way to raise revenue.

Overdue Gun Control Measure Would Reduce Murder Rate

WASHINGTON — The politicians and lobbyists, who don't want a strong Federal gun-control law, are frantically worried that the recent mass murders in Austin and Chicago will arouse an irresistible public demand for Congressional action.

They should be worried. There is every reason to expect—and to hope—that these horrors will help galvanize public support for needed legislation and free Congress from the lobbyists' grip on Sen. Dodd's gun-control bill locked up in committee for many months.

Of course, it's true that there is no assurance that these hideous crimes would have been prevented by stronger, nationwide restrictions on the sale of firearms to criminals, the mentally disturbed, and juveniles.

This is the point which those who don't want to do anything to annoy the sportsmen and the gun-sellers are now making to fend off the rising public insistence that the Dodd bill be allowed to break out of its Senate Judiciary jail.

I SUBMIT that the recent mass murders (23 people killed by two men) is a legitimate reason for getting at the gun-control measure quickly because these crimes are an expression of—and perhaps, in part, caused by—the growing mood and mounting tide of violence in the United States.

The fact is there are just too many weapons of violence too easily obtainable by people of violence either across the counter or by mail order. There is a gathering atmosphere of violence in the nation today and racial stress makes it more explosive.

TEEN-AGE GANGS, upon shooting it out with other, are using weapor violence.

Crimes of violence—mu non - negligent manslaug forcible rape, aggravate sault, and robbery—went per cent every year fo last six years, far faster the birth rate. In 1965 were more than 5,600 mur 34,700 aggravated assaults a gun, and over 68,400 beries where a weapon used.

Moscow Ways Win, But Unwinningly

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The State Department's endless capacity for tepid chiding and patient tolerance in dealing with Soviet highhandedness and duplicity is as incomprehensible as it is stupid and futile.

Time and again the Russians have brazenly and insolently violated explicit understandings and written agreements, and all the State Department has done has been either to look the other way or, what amounts to the same thing reprovingly to "protest the arbitrary action."

Never is there immediate and forceful retaliation. Always the State Department pussyfoots and rationalizes, and invariably Moscow gets away with its affront and offense.

IN THE Johnson administration, this fatuous pusillanimity appears to be an ingrained fixation in high State Department quarters.

SAME BITTER STORY — What has just happened to the Earl (Fatha) Hines jazz band touring Russia under the recently renewed cultural exchange treaty, is the latest example of this State Department fatuousness.

In direct violation of a carefully worked out and approved schedule of performances by these outstanding jazz musicians in Moscow, Leningrad and other major cities, the Kremlin abruptly and without explanation shunted them to small centers in the provincial Black Sea area.

Before this sudden shift in itinerary, the Hines players had scored tremendous hits in the Ukrainian capital Kiev, the Georgian capital Tiflis, and the Armenian capital Erivan, particularly among the young people who overflowed the auditorium to hear them. These exuberantly enthusiastic receptions obviously distressed the Communist rulers.

They clashed squarely with the official propaganda line that the Soviet masses are up in arms over U.S. Viet Nam policy. There wasn't the slightest indication of that among the cheering throngs that acclaimed the Hines jazz group.

So they were curtly banned to the sticks.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By WILLIAM F. ARNOLD

Taxpayer Asks If Money Is Getting Results In School

To find out, he asked the school board if he could see for himself.

His answer depends on the outcome of a conflict between his interpretation of the California Education Code and that of the Reed School Board chairman. Both are lawyers.

After scrutinizing the Reed School District $1.5 million 1967 budget, James Murray of 2486 Mar East Street asked, "What are we paying for? After spending all that money on 1,700 kids, can they read and form a simple English sentence?"

MURRAY, WHO IS ALSO secretary of the Tiburon Sanitary District, wrote the school board asking, "As a citizen and taxpayer" could he "please, read unselected examples of the narrative writing of students of the seventh and eighth grades? I am willing to spend several days doing so at any time or place convenient to you.

"I want to study the result of training in spelling and in the use of the English language. I am not searching for evidence of talent in writing; I merely want to know the extent of which students in those grades know how to spell and form an English sentence."

The board denied his request, citing a state education code section whereby matters of a personal nature regarding children cannot be disclosed. The board then referred it to Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino for his opinion.

GODINO CONCURRED with the Board's decision. He wrote Board President James B. Atkin that "These writings are not public records, but rather the private property of the individual students and could be released only with the consent of the pupils' parents. There is the further point that Section 1075 of the Education Code prohibits the release of any personal information concerning pupils. Inasmuch as the papers would contain the pupils' names and grades received, the make of these documents available to the public would constitute a violation of this code section."

Atkins said the board was "Quite right. We had no authority to permit anyone to look at student papers."

Atkin said he told Murray that instead he could look at samples of pupil writing at school open houses during Education Week or inspect district-wide test results, which are open to the public, in the district office.

Atkin admitted, however, that papers on exhibit during an open house might not be the most representative. On this point they agree. "Everything's gussied up then and that's no good," Murray said.

MURRAY DISAGREES strongly, however, that the Education Code is applicable. "The writings of a student, done in a classroom, are no more personal than a demonstration of athletic prowess, on a playground, in view of the public. There is only one case, that I can find, which interprets that section. It is not in point," he wrote back.

In his second letter to the board, mailed last week, Murray said, "I am sure I am not the only person who wants to see the results of training in the English language. Your expenditures cannot be fairly analyzed unless the results are known. Indeed, you, as a board, must know whether the students can spell and write in order to determine whether your allocation of funds is achieving the results you desire."

UNDAUNTED, Murray asked the board to have all seventh and eighth grade students compose essays without signing them. This way, he reasoned, an individual pupil's privacy would not be invaded but the public could see the results.

As taxpayers now, Murray said, "we don't see the results of the product."

The board has yet to act on his latest letter. Murray said his "next move is open. We may have to find out what our legal rights are."

Out of this exchange, Murray thinks one thing is obvious. Everyone is being very careful with their grammar and spelling in the letters.

Last week, in a column that was written Monday afternoon for Wednesday's paper, I said that the estimated Tiburon Sanitary District 1967 tax rate would rise. For the record, the district board met that Monday night and lowered that tax from 44 to 38 cents per $100 assessed valuation. My column appeared Wednesday in error.

Which reminds me of an anecdote attributed to the late Alben W. Barkley, Vice President of the United States. It seems a brash young lawyer once boasted to Barkley that he wasn't much on theory but that he knew every Kentucky state law on the books.

Barkley replied, "You mean the legislature could meet one day and repeal everything you know?"

Supervisors Go Along On Water Week

One Marin County supervisor was unwilling, but his four colleagues voted yesterday to proclaim Aug. 14-20. "Willing Water Week" in the county.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr abstained, saying that he would not vote for such a proclamation until the Marin Municipal Water District gives a satisfactory explanation of recent water shortages and recognizes the environment in future location of water tanks.

"Willing Water" is a national water industry symbol, depicting a man with a water drop for a head, explained Jerome Gilbert, manager of the North Marin County Water District. He was present at yesterday's session on another matter.

Permit Hearing Is Adjourned

The Belvedere Planning Commission Monday night adjourned a public hearing on a use permit for the Belvedere-Tiburon CATV Co. franchise to find out if it would be a public utility under the law.

Commission Chairman George V. Banning said the 30 residents at the hearing were "100 per cent against" granting the permit.

The company wants to construct a 50-foot tower and a small utility building at Fern and Madrona Avenues. The proposed tower would rise 42 feet above Madrona Avenue, Banning said, and most persons felt it would be an eyesore.

Banning said the commission would probably continue the hearing at its Sept. 19 meeting.

Charity Seeking Trade Stamp Gifts

The Marin County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. of America will sponsor a county-wide drive for Blue Chip and S and H Green stamps throughout the month of August, Elsa McCarthy, chairman of the chapter's Patient Service Committee, disclosed today.

Mrs. McCarthy noted that a minimum of 350 books of stamps is needed to purchase equipment for dystrophy patients in Marin and Sonoma counties.

Nurse Licenses To Marinites

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Results of the June examinations for registered nurses' licenses were announced today by Michael R. Buggy, executive secretary of the board of nursing education and nurse registration.

Among successful applicants from Marin were: Pamela J. Gaffney of 67 Edward Avenue, Santa Venetia; Judith M. Johnston of 48 Driftwood Court, San Rafael; Charlaine J. Skeel of 531 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda; and Josephine G. Lyman of 51 San Marino Drive, Peacock Gap.

Redskins Need Johnson Help But It's An Election Year

WASHINGTON — President Johnson attended the Washington Redskins-Baltime Colts exhibition football game last week. This was the first time an American President ever went to a pro football game and the rumor was that Mr. Johnson's appearance did not have to do as much with his love for the sport as it did with the fact that his future son-in-law Pat Nugent was holding his bachelor party at the stadium.

The President sat with Edward Bennett Williams, who is president of the Redskins, and they were deep in conversation during the entire game. I was not privy to the conversation, but I think it went something like this.

Mr. Williams said, "Mr. President, we need your help. This is a national emergency."

THE PRESIDENT said he was watching the game with interest, but he felt he could not call for federal intervention so early in the game. "I think we're going to have to let the teams work out their differences amongst themselves."

In the beginning of the second quarter Unitas threw another touchdown pass making the score 21 to 0. Williams started to plead in earnest. "Mr. President, you've got to step in. This violates your 3½ per cent guideline for a pro football game."

"I got burned on intervention once this week," the President said. "I see no way of helping you."

Williams said, "But this is a flagrant example of aggression from the North. Baltimore has infiltrated not only our line but our backfield. Don't you understand Washington's face is at stake?"

"WHAT DO you want?" the President asked.

"I'd rather not escalate the game at this time," the President replied. "I won't be pushed into anything rash."

"Well, what about a paratroop drop to wipe out their flankers?"

"Mr. Williams, I suggest you sit down with the Baltimore Colt people and work out some sort of a peace plan. Using force to resolve a football game is against everything the free world stands for."

"But we are peaceful, Mr. President. Look at us. We haven't laid a finger on the Colts since the first kick-off. You certainly could spare one Marine regiment to hold off the Baltimore attack."

MR. WILLIAMS was in despair.

In the second half Pete Gogolak, the place kicker from Princeton, whom the Redskins had paid $150,000 for, came out on the field to try for a field goal. This was the moment Washington fans had been waiting for. The ball was snapped from center, Gogolak brought back his foot and wham—the kick was blocked!

The Redskins rooters booed to a man.

Mr. Williams made one more pitch. He said, "Mr. President, I have only one other favor to ask of you. Will you let me borrow six of your Secret Servicemen so I can get out of the stadium alive?"

Convicts Describe Cells As Filthy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A prisoner, who gained rehabilitation through a stamp collection, testified before a federal judge yesterday about conditions in a California prison's strip cell.

Judge George B. Harris of U.S. District Court said he believed it was the first time a federal judge had taken evidence of charges brought against the operation of a state prison.

Testifying was Alfonso H. Esparza, 24, called as a witness by Robert Jordan, 27, who asks a writt of habeas corpus and sued the superintendent of the Soledad Correctional Facility for $50,000, the state for $100,000 and the prison for $1 million.

RIGHTS ACTION

Jordan, in a civil rights action, says he was placed naked in a dark, unventilated cell, contaminated by human filth in violation of his constitutional right to protection against cruel and unhuman punishment.

Esparza said a guard had pumped tear gas in his face after he "acted like a two-year-old child" and beat his bars when told he had to stay in the strip cell 29 more days because tobacco had been found in his mattress.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Robert Granucci said the guard shot two short bursts of the gas, both at the cell floor.

Granucci asked that the judge consider Esparza's long disciplinary record in weighing the credibility of his evidence. He contended the prisoner showed a bias against institutions.

Outside the hearing, prison officials said Esparza had been in 11 institutions since he was 6, including a Los Angeles orphanage. They said he had wanted rehabilitation but repeatedly wound up in solitary confinement.

STAMP COLLECTION

A guard's hunch started him on a stamp collection and his attitude is so reformed, they added, that he will be promoted to the California Men's Colony at San Luis Obispo as soon as the hearing ends.

Jordan is from Los Angeles and has been in the prison on an assault conviction since he was 19.

Prison officials said that since April automatic flushers, and other facilities have been installed.

Another prisoner who testified was Siegfriete Porte, 23, who had been in correctional institutions since 13. He appeared at the hearing pale and faint, having cut a wrist the night before to attract attention to "my problem." He said he wanted to be transferred to San Quentin or some other place where he can get psychiatric treatment.

Porte, convicted of robbery, was sent to the strip cell when he destroyed furnishings in a regular cell and tore a toilet from the wall, officials said.

Cletus Fitzharris, Soledad superintendent, contends Jordan's charges are untrue and frivolous. Fitzharris formerly lived in San Rafael, was an associate warden of San Quentin prison, and later a member of the California Adult Authority.

He and other officials will testify tomorrow in Judge Harris' courtroom in San Francisco. the first hearing was at the prison.

Journalists' Bouquet Gets Turned Down

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — "Roses are red, newsmen are blue," noted a headline in a local newspaper today.

With the flowers was a card wishing the couple happiness — and also asking for a brief gateside interview.
